SOUTHERN DEMOCRATS HALT WAGE-HOUR BILL ACTION

Surprise Move Delays Action On Wage-Hour Bill

Fate Of Measure And Early Congress Adjournment Are In Confusion

RULES COMMITTEE CANCELS SESSION

Report Insurgency Of Southern Democrats Cause Of Sudden Change

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Fate of the wage-and-hour bill and early adjournment of congress was thrown into confusion today when the powerful rules committee of the house suddenly cancelled a scheduled meeting which was to have reported out a special rule for the consideration of the wage-and-hour legislation.

The meeting was postponed because of the reported insurgency of southern Democrats against the measure and followed a conference between the house leaders.

"The meeting was postponed," said Chairman O'Connor of the rules committee. "There is nothing further I can say."

Asked if this blasted all chance of calling up the bill in the house tomorrow, O'Connor replied:

"Of course, if we had a meeting this afternoon we could report out a rule."

No Time Designated.

No time, however, was fixed for another meeting of the committee.

Southern Democratic members of the rules committe violently opposed to the wage-hour bill, have threatened to throttle the measure in committee.

Chico Marx And Wife Injured

Near Riot Occurs At Crowded Olympic Auditorium In Los Angeles

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—Chico Marx, film comedian, and Mrs. Marx nursed lacerations today and three men were under arrest following a near riot at the crowded Olympic auditorium.

The main event fight between Hank Hankinson and George Godfrey was halted temporarily and pandemonium reigned in the auditorium when an empty whiskey bottle came hurlting down from the gallery onto the floor in front of the Marxes, who were sitting next to Al Jolson and his wife, Ruby Keeler.

The splintered glass missed the Jolsons but Marx suffered severe lacerations on his hand and Mrs. Marx was cut slightly on the head.

Referee Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, halted the fight while police went to the gallery and took three negroes into custody.

The Jolsons took the Marxes home for treatment.

When the fight was allowed to proceed, Hankinson went on to win an eight-round technical knockout over the aging veteran negro who for years was regarded as the "great black menace" to the heavyweight crown.

Scouts Avert Wreck Of Train

Flag Pennsylvania Freight Train In Time To Avoid Crashing Into Boulder

RARE PRESENCE OF MIND SHOWN

Boy Scout training showed its value Tuesday afternoon when a quartet of Croton youths, members of Troop 6, acted alertly in an emergency and flagged down a Pennsylvania freight train on the Stoneboro branch between the old paper mill and Croton avenue crossing, just in time to prevent the train from running into a two-ton boulder, which had been loosened by recent rains and had crashed down onto the railroad tracks.

The boys were Roy Marshall and Robert Sheehy of Dewey avenue, Bob Patton of Lorain avenue and Bill Davis of Croton avenue.

By a coincidence, the engineer on the train, James M. Yates, is the uncle of two of the boys, Robert and Roy Marshall Sheehy, and Robert Sheehy used a sweater his uncle had given him as a present to flag down the train.

The boulder was discovered by Roy Marshall Sheehy, the youngest one of the group, and he called the attention of the older boys to the situation. They heard the approaching train and running up the track, waved frantically to Engineer Yates, who recognized his nephew and stopped the train, only a short distance away from the boulder.

Members of the train crew removed the obstacle and then proceeded on their way after warmly thanking the boys for their rare presence of mind.

The train was not proceeding at a high rate of speed at the time, but was going fast enough to have derailed the engine and perhaps caused serious damage. The track curves around a hillside at this point and the train crew could not have seen the boulder until only a few feet from it.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Aug. 11. — State motor police and prison guards scanned highways and countryside here today for Thomas Boulson, 23-year-old trusty, who scaled the Rockview prison stockade fence and escaped shortly after daybreak.

Lisbon Mystery Crime Is Solved According To Police Officials

SHOT WAS FIRED THROUGH WINDOW

(International News Service)

LISBON, O., Aug. 11.—Johannes Borgwardt, 23, was lodged in the Columbiana jail today after admitting the fatal shooting of his former mother-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Cranston, 47, who broke up his runaway marriage with her daughter.

Mrs. Cranston was killed in her home in nearby Knox township by a shotgun blast fired through a screen as she lay in bed reading shortly after midnight.

Blames "Family Trouble"

According to Sheriff Harry Gosney, Borgwardt blamed the slaying on "family trouble" saying he had intended to kill his former father-in-law, William Cranston. The latter, however, had gone to work before Borgwardt arrived.

The alleged confession was made at Alliance, O., where Borgwardt was arrested.

Borgwardt eloped with Mrs. Cranston's daughter, Evelyn, about four years ago, when she was 16, authorities reported, and Mrs. Cranston had broken up the marriage. The couple was divorced in June, 1936. Since then, they said, Borgwardt had continuously written his former wife, pleading for a reconciliation.

Harding's Former Secretary Dies

Mrs. Elizabeth Janette Cooper, 76, Served Late President As Secretary

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 11.—A 76-year-old widow, born near Marion, O., who was secretary to President Warren G. Harding during his senatorial days from 1914 to 1921, will be buried here tomorrow after a funeral service attended only by inmates of the convalescent home where she died.

She was Mrs. Elizabeth Janette Cooper, who lived in obscurity at a rest home here for the last year. The only facts known concerning her life and background were those which were ascertained from the faded papers found in an old trunk. Among the papers was a letter from President Harding.

As far as officials of the home are aware, Mrs. Cooper has no relatives nor close friends.

See Guffey As Candidate For State Governor

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11. — Persistent rumors lent credence today to the observation of vetern Capitol Hill political seers that the high command of the state Democratic organization has virtually decided upon U. S. Senator Joseph E. Guffey as its gubernatorial choice in 1938.

Under the reported plan, which has grown in plausibility since Gov. George H. Earle endorsed President Roosevelt for a third term in the White House, Guffey's running mate for the senatorial seat held by Republican James J. Davis would be Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy, a powerful labor leader and official of the United Mine Workers of America.

Registration In County Districts Appears Light

Only Last Day Rush Will Bring It To Anyway Near Normal

Unless a last day avalanche of voters rush the polling precincts of the rural districts today, to register, the registration of the county districts outside the City of New Castle will be unprecedentedly light for the primary on September 14.

Reports from a number of the 58 county precincts on yesterday's registration are that few voters availed themselves of the privilege. Only one precinct, the first of Neshannock township showed much interest, 123 registering there.

Today is the last day in which voters can register at their polling precincts. After today rural voters can register in the court house until September 1.

City voters can register at the court house only until August 15.

Japan Plans Naval Display For China

(Copyright, 1937, I.N.S.)

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Japan is planning to stage the most powerful naval demonstration seen in Chinese waters since the World war, according to information received today in reliable diplomatic quarters here.

Japan's "patience" with China's alleged misdeeds having reached the breaking point, her display of naval prowess will be produced on the great Yangtze river, and will bring the guns of her big ships bearing down on Nanking, the capital, itself.

At present the plan is understood to envisage only a "showing of the flag" as a warning against further anti-Japanese incidents.

Seven Prisoners Flee From Jail

BAR AND CHAIN IS SAWED IN TWO

(International News Service)

ELKTON, Md., Aug. 11.—Using a rope made of blankets to scale a 30-foot wall, seven prisoners escaped today from the unguarded Cecil county jail after sawing a bar and chain which blocked their passage to the prison yard.

The fugitives, all of whom were awaiting trial in September on charges of larceny, were not locked in their cells last night because of the warm weather, authorities said. No guard is on duty during the night, but the sheriff makes a tour of inspection at midnight.

According to 18 other prisoners, the break was made shortly before daybreak. The delivery, authorities believe, was engineered by Hampton Hall, 25, of Norristown, who faced trial on a holdup charge.

Among the others who escaped was Adolph Campbell of Lancaster county, Pa., who also was to be tried on a charge of highway robbery.

'Test Tube' Area For Safety Drive

Highway Safety Council Plans For Innovation In Safety Work

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—Gov. George H. Earle's Highway Safety Council has decided to set up a community "test tube" area for trying out its future safety campaigns prior to state-wide adoption, it was announced today.

According to tentative plans, the council will select a small section of the state embodying a wide variety of highway hazards and safety problems. Here the council plans to try out various forms of attacking the problem. The first area likely will include Harrisburg.

During the test all safety agencies thus far revised will be concentrated on the area. These will include radio, newspapers, public meetings and new types of highway signs. Efforts of the motor police and the department of highways will be centered on the area simultaneously.

After a certain period of time all accidents, injuries and deaths will be checked against the previous record of the area to determine the potency of the drive.

All effective methods will thereafter be put into use throughout the entire commonwealth.

Women Meet To Start Campaign For Republicans

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The Republican party formally started the ball rolling for its 1938 congressional campaign today with a meeting of national committeewomen here, gathered to select a new women's division chairman.

John Hamilton, national committee chairman, said women are much more active in the party today than men, and that they have kept their organizations throughout the nation active. For that reason, he added, a systematic organization program—carrying activities down to "block committees" in the cities—would be started immediately. He presided at today's meeting, and announced that a women's division head would be selected within a fortnight.

MADRID, Aug. 11.—With thousands of Loyalists and rebel troops locked in hand-to-hand encounters under a blistering sky on wild mountain slopes, fighting on the Teruel Salient west of Madrid today entered the most bitter phase of its three weeks' duration.

Simultaneously the rebels launched a surprise attack near Casa Blanca in an attempt to gain control of the important northern portion of the Estremadura road.

But Loyalist reinforcements were rushed to the scene and succeeded in beating off the insurgents, who lost 200 killed and wounded.

Valencia, Aug. 11—A sudden night raid over the temporary Loyalist capital by rebel bombing airplanes today left 20 dead.

State Official Gives Attitude

Says New Law Will Be Given "Liberal Interpretation" By State

BELIEVES MORE WILL GET JOBS

(International News Service)

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 11.—A promise that "liberal interpretation" of the state's new 44-hour week law will be "strictly adhered to" was left with members of the Pennsylvania Nurserymen's Association today by Austin L. Staley, administrator of labor standards for the Department of Labor and Industry.

Staley told the delegates to the association's annual convention here that the labor department estimates "upwards of 75,000 unemployed persons will be placed in grainful occupations" with application of the new law to the Keystone state's industry. Relief rolls will be lowered by more than 225,000 persons, purchasing power and general business conditions will be stimulated in some communities, he said.

"Liberal interpretation of the laws will be strictly adhered to", he declared, "as secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Bashore knows and avers is a good public policy." He added:

"The industrial board, in charge of administration, will meet Wednesday, August 18th, to discuss recommendations for rules and regulations for applications of the laws.

"Because of the fact the women's hour law becomes effective September 1, the department and board are anxious to have the rules and regulations promulgated by the department widely publicized so that employers will become familiar with the variations allowed by the secretary of the department."

SURPRISE MOVE DELAYS ACTION ON WAGE-HOUR BILL

fidently asserted that a special rule would not be granted by the committee.

Southern Democratic members of the rules committee reported to be blocking action on the bill, include: Reps. Cox of Georgia, Driver of Arkansas, Smith of Virginia, Clark of North Carolina and Dies of Texas.

There are 14 members of the committee, including four Republicans, Rep. Taylor (R) of Tennessee and McLean of New Jersey were reported to be against the bill while Rep. Martin (R) of Massachusetts, and Mapes (R) of Michigan, were said to be "on the fence".

Almost Unprecedented.

Refusal of the rules committee to grant a rule on a bill which has strong administration backing, as has the wage-hour bill, would be almost unprecedented. The rules committee is regarded as a policy committee with its major function to give right of way to administration and party measures and to block bills disapproved by the administration.

During the present session, the rules committee held up the sugar quota bill for weeks until the agricultural committee agreed to the administration's demands.

Democratic leaders of the house may be forced to call a party caucus unless a way is found to get action on the wage-hour bill.

Rep. Dies (D) of Texas, a member of the committee, served notice in the house late yesterday of his opposition to voting a rule for the wage-hour bill until the administration pegs the price of cotton or a general farm bill is enacted.

MORE JAPANESE WARSHIPS MOVE UPON SHANGHAI

to settle peaceably the killing of two Japanese naval men near Shanghai, the Japanese foreign office warned that "the future depends on the Chinese . . . If China means to aggravate the situation, Japan will respond."

4—Planning to push a northern Chinese army back into Chahar and split the Chahar forces from those of Shensi, a large Japanese column, with tanks and airplanes, pushed northwestward from Peiping ready to battle the Chinese at Nankow Pass in the Great Wall.

Guns Levelled At Shanghai

Shanghai, Aug. 11.—Their guns cleared for action and levelled menacingly at Shanghai's guardian forts and famous waterfront bund, a score of Japanese warships today steamed into the Whangpoo river to reinforce 12 already guarding the troubled metropolis.

Fourteen of the newly-arrived fighting craft remained anchored near the mouth of the river. But two large and four small warships steamed past the Woosung forts, which guard the entrance to the stream, and sailed directly up to the busy commercial port of Shanghai.

Detachments of bluejackets were landed at once, to help protect the large Japanese population in Shanghai's international settlement.

Recall 1932 Shelling

The ships dramatic entry past Woosung was made without untoward incident, but to the minds of thousands of Chinese linking the river there was recalled the shelling of the forts in the 1932 Shanghai "war" with Japan.

The newcomers comprised the entire first Japanese battle fleet, except that capital battleships usually attached to the first fleet were missing.

While the warships cowed Shanghai in the midst of investigation of the killing of two Japanese naval men at the nearby Hungjao airport, a fresh outbreak of war near the Great Wall threatened.

Japanese Troops Move

A large column of Japanese infantry and cavalry streamed 30 miles northwest of Peiping towards Hankow Pass in the wall.

Opposing the Japanese there is a large force of Chinese militia and provincial troops who have already whipped Japanese advance detachments in skirmishes.

Japan's northward thrust along the Peiping-Suiyuan railroad is designed to roll the Chinese back into Chahar, and isolate the Chahar troops from the forces of Suiyuan, according to Chinese authorities.

Nippon then placed its reliance on the air force to keep Chinese armies of the south in check. Bombers yesterday raided Paotingfu in Hopei.

100,000 Jap Troops

The menacing attitude of the Japanese warships here, and the large Japanese troop movements (Chinese sources estimate Japanese troops in North China at 100,000 to 120,000, with at least another division of 15,000 en route) contrasted with efforts in Shanghai to reach a peaceful settlement of the Hungjao killings.

Japanese continued to insist that the two naval men were killed without provocation at the airport, and bayoneted after they were dead. Chinese authorities said the Japanese fired on airport guards.

Fearing a reptition of the 1932 "war," foreign consuls, including Clarence E. Gauss, United States consul general, held a long meeting last night.

Its result was secret, but it is understood the consuls hope to demilitarize Shanghai and maintain peace here.

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Aug. 11.—The coroner's jury called by Dr. R. L. Williams today pronounced the death of Gurney B. McCracken, 49, Lumber City, a suicide.

McCracken was arrested on a charge of drunken driving after crashing into another machine. Following the hearing before the squire, he was taken to his home by Sheriff Clarence H. Ammerman to get bail, according to police.

While the sheriff waited downstairs for McCracken to change clothes, he heard a shot. He found him fatally shot beneath the chin with a shotgun, police said.

A list of names now before the British home office, said the Daily Herald, contains the names of 500 persons said to be connected with Nazi espionage in this country.

Daily Touch with Berlin

"The secret Nazi organization was in daily touch with Berlin," the Daily Herald, which is an anti-Nazi newspaper, added.

"In a great new building operated under control of the German foreign office, there is an index file giving the name, address, occupation, friends, acquaintances and the social and political activities of every German resident abroad, whether a refugee or a Nazi sympathizer."

Every section of the British press reflected England's anger over Berlin's order to the Times of London to replace its correspondent there, Norman Ebbutt, within two weeks.

Consternation was caused also by predictions in the German semi-official press that other retaliatory expulsions would be made by the Reich.

The Times has instructed Ebbutt to leave within his time limit. Meanwhile his work will be carried on by his assistant in Berlin.

Deaths of the Day

James Woods Funeral

Funeral services for the late James W. Woods were conducted from the Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, had charge of the service, both at the home and at the cemetery. Many friends of Mr. Wood were in attendance for the services.

Pallbearers included James Reynolds, Thomas A. Dunn, C. W. Fenton, John W. Robinson, John Fulmer and Leonard Campbell.

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Clayton Dunbar.

Mrs. Nettie Josephine Dunbar, aged 67 years, wife of Clayton Dunbar, died at the residence, 55 Murdock street, Youngstown, O., early this morning after a long illness.

Mrs. Dunbar was born in Scott township, Lawrence county, on April 1, 1870, daughter of the late Harrison and Mary E. Rogers Miller. She married Mr. Dunbar, who survives, in 1895. There are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Langley of Youngstown and Mrs. Ina Richey of West Middlesex; six grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Hinkson of New Castle and Mrs. Caroline Rogers of Ellwood City, and the following brothers: James Miller of Aliquippa, Fred Miller of Butler, John Miller of Youngstown and Cameron Miller of Ellwood City, living.

The deceased had resided in Youngstown for nine years. Prior to that she was in Struthers and Lowellville.

Funeral services will take place on Friday at 2 o'clock in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Langley, 170 Lincoln Park Drive, Youngstown, and interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery, New Castle.

Freeborne Funeral Change

Funeral services for little Donald and Audrey Freeborne, children of Norman Freeborne, who were killed in a tragic accident at Flint, Mich., will be conducted at the residence, 422 Edgewood avenue, instead of the Jos. S. Rice Co. Chapel as originally planned.

The services will be at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon and the children will be buried in Graceland cemetery.

The bodies arrived in New Castle this morning and were taken to the chapel. At 4 p. m. they were to be removed to the Edgewood avenue address.

Russo Girl's Funeral Time

Funeral mass for little Angeline Russo of 418 Uber street will be celebrated at nine o'clock Thursday morning in St. Vitus church. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

May Perrott

Following a week's illness in the New Castle hospital, Miss May Perrott, 43, of 419 Edgewood avenue, died at 5:45 p. m. Tuesday, August 10.

Miss Perrott was the daughter of Thomas and Sarah Perrott and was born in Llanelly, South Wales, on August 16, 1894. As a small child she came to New Castle with her parents and had resided here since then.

She is survived by her father and mother, two brothers, Levi of Crestline, O., and Thomas of New York City, and a sister, Mrs. Olwen Gale, of Youngstown, O.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, August 13, from her late home at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Castle View Burial Park.

George L. Cooper Funeral.

Funeral services for the late George L. Cooper of 417 Edgewood avenue, for many years a prominent newspaperman in New York City, were conducted at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the residence of his sister, Mrs. B. F. Butler, 407 North Jefferson street.

The minister in charge was the Rev. G. S. Bennett, D. D., pastor of the First Christian church.

Pallbearers were William Atkinson, Clifford Young, Luther Serfass, Andrew Dodds, Walter Dietterle and William Williams. Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Mr. Cooper's sudden death last Saturday night was a shock to his many friends for he had been downtown during the day and was apparently in his usual health. Returning to Mrs. Butler's summer cottage he complained of not feeling well early in the evening, but neither he, his wife nor sister realized that his condition was serious until a few minutes before his death at 10:30. His death was due to a heart attack.

Mr. Cooper had a host of friends not only in New Castle, where he was born and reared, but during the 25 years he passed in New York City he won a great many friends in the newspaper profession.

After receiving his early experience in the work at New Castle and Pittsburgh, Mr. Cooper then accepted an offer made by William Randolph Hearst and joined the New York Evening Journal staff.

Some time later he went to the late James Gordon Bennett's New York Herald, then established for Mr. Bennett the New York Evening Telegram and served for many years as its managing editor.

He was not only an employe but a personal friend of Mr. Bennett for all of those years. About two years before the publisher died Mr. Cooper was made managing editor of both the Herald and Evening Telegram, a job the magnitude of which only the newspaper profession can really appreciate.

For the past 11 years Mr. and Mrs. Cooper made their home in New Castle. After leaving New York and prior to coming here they were a year in Florida, five years in New Wilmington and passed a winter in Mr. Cooper's Canadian hunting lodge.

Several Diamond Rings And Other Articles Taken From Parker Cottage

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard is investigating a diamond robbery at the cottage of Mrs. George Parker, on the Neshannock creek, a short distance south of East Brook station. While Mrs. Parker and some friends were in bathing a thief entered her cottage, and stole a valuable diamond ring belonging to her, a diamond ring belonging to a Mrs. Brand and a diamond ring belonging to Mrs. William Jenks. The latter two were guests at the cottage. Among other articles taken was $10 in cash, a gold wedding ring, a 22 calibre rifle and a 25 automatic revolver.

Williamsport Hit By Storm

Worst Storm In Years Causes Heavy Damage To Williamsport Area

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSPORT Pa., Aug. 11.—Scenes somewhat reminiscent of the days of the disastrous floods in March of 1936 were re-enacted last night when the "worst storm in years" hit Williamsport.

Rain fell in torrents for more than an hour, flooding basements of business places and homes with as much as two feet of water, inundating the low-lying rural districts and closing roads to motor travel.

Nearly two and one-half inches of rain fell, the weather bureau reported.

Heavy loss was reported at the state game farm at Loyalsock where more than 1,000 young pheasants were trapped in pens by high waters. Some farmers lost their livestock and in other sections crops were badly damaged. Two buildings were struck by lightning.

American eels spawn at a depth of 80 feet in the Atlantic ocean. After spawning, they die.

CENSUS OF JOBLESS

THROUGH the depression, and up from it, this country has struggled without even a reasonably accurate estimate of the number of Americans who were unemployed. Gigantic relief efforts have been put forth, and billions of dollars expended without any official knowledge of how many persons were jobless and of what industries and localities had been hardest hit.

The nation's heroic attempts to care for its needy and to provide work for its workless have been based on the greatest guessing contest of all time.

Although inexcusably belated, the senate's action in voting an unemployment census is none the less commendable. Prompt action by the house is advisable so that a broad survey of jobless conditions may quickly be set in motion.

Reluctance of the administration to insist upon an organized checkup of unemployment never has been clearly understood. Repeated suggestions for such a survey, as a practical starting point for all direct relief, work relief and re-employment campaigns, have been shunted aside by the white house.

Only last April President Roosevelt was represented as feeling that an unemployment census was unnecessary. At that time Senator Vandenberg was asserting that the number of jobless was "perhaps being over-estimated by as much as 5,000,000" and that it was possible only 2,975,000 were out of work in industry. At that time the National Industrial Conference Board estimated the unemployed at 8,914,000. And at that time, likewise, Secretary of Labor Perkins was blithely spreading the glad tiding that "the rising total in private placements continues the trend which has been evident since the early part of 1936."

What did it all mean It meant simply that the unemployment guessing contest was open to all comers and that the favored range of blind stabs in the dark ran from 2,975,000 to 8,914,000. How could any sound, long-range relief or re-employment programs be predicted on such an utter absence of factual data as was here represented? Why didn't the administration, in April, call for a count of the jobless and a survey of the industries and localities in which unemployment was most serious?

As early as the spring of 1935 the administration made vague gestures in the direction of an unemployment census. It was indicated that funds for such an undertaking would be obtained from the $4,880,000,000 relief appropriation then pending in congress. But nothing came of it. Why? It would take another guessing contest to bring out all the possible reasons, but without exploring them fully it may be remarked, briefly, suggests the Inquirer of Philadelphia, that a national election was imminent.

In a statement yesterday the National Industrial Conference Board estimated the jobless at 6,082,000 in June. On July 9 the American Federation of Labor placed its guess at 8,000,000. In her lastest outpouring on the great American riddle of unemployment Secretary Perkins continued her recent practice of keeping away from figures on the number of jobless and confining her arithmetic to employment gains and losses in specific months and industries.

That re-employment has made notable progress is evident on all sides. Everybody knows that more people are at work. Business is going forward at a brisk pace and prospects point to livelier trade in the autumn and winter. But millions of Americans are still on relief rolls. Relief expenditures by the government are still enormous. Millions of our fellow citizens still wonder whether they are going to be re-employed in industry before the snow flies and coal bills begin to arrive.

Until there is a careful unemployment census, showing how many are jobless, where and in what industries they are jobless, and therefore in what states and communities there is the greatest need of relief funds, men and women who are trying to get real work at real wages will continue to be the chief victims of this great American guessing contest.

The unpardonable failure to conduct a survey of unemployment conditions has been rank injustice to the jobless and, incidentally, to the taxpayers. It is a mistake that cannot be corrected too soon. The house should pass promptly, and the president should sign, this belated proposal that promises to provide the groundwork for a constructive relief and re-employment program.

A reasonable explanation of modern painting, says a savant, is that the painter's eyesight is poor. It comes to us that maybe a radio soprano can't hear.

A Cleveland veteran, who tried for 19 years to convince the government that he isn't dead, has given up. The prospect of a long life without a pension must be discouraging, however.

More than fifty of the old blanket-size $10,000 bills are still in circulation, a report that should cause congress to start an investigation to pillory the malefactors who have been holding out on the politicians.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

USE CASKETS IN SERMON

One Sunday last June I "turned preacher" and talked on "Getting Along Together in the Home," from the pulpit of the First United Presbyterian church, Butler, Pa. It is the same talk I have given often before non-church groups. In the early evening I conducted a forum in another church full of young folk on "Choosing a Life Partner". Then I went on to hear Calvin Reid, Ph. D., preach from the same place I stood in the morning service. His audience almost filled the large church that evening! When I heard his sermon I could understand why.

His text: "Whosoever Shall Lose His Life . . . Shall Find It." He centered his sermon about "The Three Caskets".

"And here is Bassanio in the familiar casket scene in the 'Merchant of Venice', choosing the leaden casket which bears the inscription, 'Who chooseth me must give and hazard all he hath,' and thereby winning the hand of Portia and honor and happiness. In the final analysis, it is the same great truth. Jesus said it as a Teacher, Shakespeare as a dramatist."

Dr. Reid had three small paper caskets or chests on his pulpit, which he used with good effect.

As you will recall, beautiful Portia was not permitted to marry as she chose. Her wealthy father, just before his death, had stated in his will the rules to govern her marriage. Accordingly three caskets are fashioned. Concealed in one of the three is the portrait of Portia. And only he who chooses the casket which contains the portrait is to be the husband of Portia; if any suitor chooses wrong he must remain to the end of his life unwed. Three suitors are left.

Chooses Gold Casket

The Prince of Morocco chooses first the golden casket on which is the inscription, "Who chooses me shall gain what many men desire." Opening it he finds a skull with a scroll on which appears: "All that glitters is not gold," etc. Reading the inscription on the silver chest, "Who chooses me shall get as much as he deserves," the Prince of Arragon opens it to find the picture of a blinking idiot and the verse.

"There be fools alive, I wis,
Silvered o'er; and so was this."

At last comes Bassanio. He choose the leaden casket with the inscription, "Who chooses me must give and hazard all he hath." He won. None of the suitors knew of course, what had been the others' choice.

Said Dr. Reid, "In other words, to win and enjoy the best we must be willing to sacrifice everything. This is the great truth to apply as we think of our homes. If we were to ask, 'What is the chief cause of unhappiness in our home life?' we would lead to the conclusion that it is selfishness. It is one member or more of the family thinking of his or her own RIGHTS. Now, if we could only reverse that and think only of our own responsibilities, what a difference it would make. The husband who would make his wife happy needs simply to forget all about himself and lose himself in thoughts and plans for her. And the wife who would make her husband happy needs to practice the same simple principle. This is what Jesus had in mind when he said, 'He that loseth his life shall find it.'"

It was most gratifying to me to hear a great precher arrive at conclusions applying specifically to family relationships. And let me suggest that the young man or woman trying to choose among several lovers or sweethearts, might find some wholesome guidance in this legend of the three caskets.

FARMER'S WOMEN

Along the road to Pointe Aux Barques there lie the grassy valleys
Where men and women walk the fields instead of brick-paved alleys.
The farmers and their wives are out, for every hand is needed,
To stack the hay before the storm and keep the garden weeded.

The women wear plain cotton frocks! 'Tis only in the city
That wives have time to bother much with dainty things and pretty.
And oft I think while riding by how long must seem the day time
To her who shares a farmer's lot, especially in hay time.

And yet I wonder sometimes, too, as in the fields I see them:
Do pitching hay and hoeing corn from cruel boredom free them?
Would they not rather be out there, the air and sunshine drinking
Than sit at home in solitude, just lonely women, thinking.

Dinner Stories

SECOND MUNCHAUSEN?

A group of golfers were telling tall stories. At last came a veteran's turn.

"Well," he said, "I once drove a ball — accidentally, of course — through a cottage window. The ball knocked over an oil lamp, and the place caught fire."

"What did you do then?" asked his friends.

"Oh," said the veteran, "I immediately teed another ball, took careful aim, and hit the fire alarm box on the next corner. That brought out the fire department before any damage was done."

"Your honor," he said, he took the boots as a joke."

"Isn't that carrying a joke too far?" the court suggested.

"About forty yards, please your honor, and then I caught up with him."

In the end the great middle class of the United States will have to stand the burden of saving this country from its enemies who are not in a foreign country but right here among us. This is one time Americans who love their country should be on guard.

IMPORTANCE OF PATIENCE

It isperfectly clear how to make money. For example, anyone could have bought a corner lot in the loop district of Chicago, in 1873, for $10,000. It would now be worth $2,000,000.

He could have picked up equally attractive bargains in real estate or securities in 1893, 1914, 1921, or 1932. All he needed was the exercise of reasonably good judgement in the picking and the patience of Job in the keeping.

But few people realize the importance of patience. It is so rare that not one man in a thousand is a successful investor or speculator.

Of those who bought at the bottom of the current depression, nine out of ten are tired of waiting for prices to move up. At every market bulge some sell out. Only the thousandth man will stay in until values again reach fantastic heights.

In the years to come young men who have been through a depression will scoff. "Anyone could see that U. S. Steel or General Motors was cheap at $20," they will say. They will not realize that thousands did know it and acted on their judgment. Nor will they know that it takes something that few people have to stick along with anything for twenty, or thirty years.

A lot of amateur investors, including this one, are getting tired of waiting for prices to go up. We have other ideas about how to use money. Those new automobile models look pretty good to us. We are cashing in our cheap corners and stocks in order to buy things! When we're old we'll tell some whopping stories about what we might have done if we had held on.

A medical columnist burns up half a column of pace trying to answer the question: "What is the dangerous age?" We should have answered it in two words, viz: This is.

Personally we would rather have honest criticism from honest people than flattery from bull throwers.

Home Gardener (to agent)—This "Sure Death to Bugs" that you sold me last year doesn't seem to kill the pests at all.

Agent—Yes, that's the advantage of using our patent exterminator. The properties of this prepartion are not to kill off the bugs at once but to gradually but surely undermine their constitutions.

"This is tough luck" said Ham mournfully, as he leaned out of a window of the Ark.

"What's the kick now?" inquired Shem.

"Why, we've got all this water all around us to fish in," replied Ham, "and only two fish worms on board."

People are not hoarding any more—they can't afford to.

Learning how to spend money is a bigger job than earning it. One has to know something in order to earn it.

UNLESS you are gifted with the kind of complexion that is immune to the disastrous effects of certain hues, beware of the following which are trying to most complexions and are particularly difficult for some of us to wear: Bright blues, yellow greens (mustard), bright purple, blue-purple, known also as pansy purple, orchid, thistle and cerise.

If you have a fondness for any of these colors, hold them, in bright daylight, against your skin and see the result before you make your final decision.

Every dress or coat (other than black) that you anticipate purchasing should be tried on and viewed in a full-length mirror while bright daylight is flooding it. Sometimes we are fooled by colors which are always greatly subdued by the electric light of the shops and when we take such purchases home we find them not in the least becoming in daylight.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WE DO IT BETTER

Even in these days when heridity monarchy is on the wane—(replaced by Dictators, possessing no birthright), the preorgatives of royalty still command respect and obedience in many parts of the world. But royalty, a little paragraph in the news reveals, has no standing with the weather, a fact which may amuse millions of American travelers to whom air-conditioning is a commonplace.

In a private car attached to the Simplon-Orient Express, one of the finest trains in Europe, the Duke of Windsor and his bride, last month embarked upon their honeymoon. As they passed through Northern Italy, the car became so oppressively warm that the Duke was obliged to remove his coat and sit in his shirt sleeves to remain comfortable.

This, remember, was the man who as Prince of Wales, set the masculine fashions for half the Western world. This was the man, who as Edward VIII of England was titular ruler of a far-flung empire, the man whose romance with an American woman nearly divided a kingdom and whose subsequent marriage to her rocked a great Church. This was the man who sat in his shirt sleeves trying to stay cool on a train.

The passenger on the American railroads doubtless enjoys none of the prerogatives of royalty, but at least he doesn't have to concern himself with the outside temperature. Regardless of how hot or cold it may be outside, the car in which he rides, makes its own weather and he is assured of comfort at all times. Mark Twain's classic remark, "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it," is still funny, but the ingenuity of American engineers has rendered it no longer true.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

THE OFFICE POLITICIAN

I used to know a fellow who was always going somewhere, but never arriving. He was forever starting in on good jobs and forever losing them. He'd get to the top and fall right off. He made friends and unmade them as fast as he made them. . . . His family never knew why, but all his office associates did.

And the reason is this: He played office politics.

He had exceptional ability, but he didn't use it. Getting ahead by producing new business and keeping old customers wasn't enough for this fellow. He had to "work the angles," and he couldn't let well enough alone. Somehow or other, he had to push the other fellow aside and step into his shoes. And he was exceptionally clever at it.

He broke quite a few hearts on the way up, hurt many a career. He had a great knack for making the other fellow look bad. With a lift of the eyebrows and a casual word here and there, he made himself seem much smarter, much more capable, than the fellow who didn't have his subtle way of doing things. . . . So the other man moved out, looking bewildered—and our friend the Office Politician moved in, sympathetic but triumphant.

But I heard the other day that the gentleman hasn't had a job for two years. . . . He calls it hard luck and complains that he can't seem to get a toe-hold anywhere. There isn't any room for a good man these days.

But the truth is that the news about that Office Politician has gotten around. Everybody in his line of business, from the stenographer to the superintendents, knows that he's poison—and that his presence in an organization is a corrupting and disintegrating influence.

He has ability. He has experience. He has ideas, charm, personality, talent—but he also has this devilish knacking for climbing quickly over the bodies of his fellow human beings. . . . So at last he outsmarted himself. Went out on a limb, sawed it off, and fell into the pit he has been digging all these years for himself.

It's a great pity, but there are few mourners.

TODAY Is The Day

Copyright 1937 Central Press By CLARK KINNAIRD

WEDNESDAYAUG 11

Aug. 11 in History—Robert Fulton, whose Clermont started its maiden journey, from New York to Albany, 130 years ago today, is often called the inventor of the steamboat.

Yet all these men built steamboats before Fulton:

Denis Papin. His craft was destroyed by jealous boatmen on the Weser in 1699.

The idea of steam navigation was set forth by Jonathan Hulls, an Englishman, in a patent issued in 1736; and Thomas Paine proposed steam navigation in America in 1776.

John Fitch. Operated a steam ferry between Philadelphia and Burlington, N. J., in 1790.

John Stevens. He took out patents for steam propulsion in 1792. His craft went up the Hudson before the Clermont. By 1804, three years before the Clermont's voyage, Stevens had developed a screw-propelled ship.

Comte de Jouffroy. He demonstrated a steamboat, called a pyroscaphe, on the Seine in 1783.

James Rumsey. He demonstrated a steam vessel in 1787 on the Potomac and got the exclusive rights to navigate the streams of New York, Maryland and Virginia. He died in 1792 while introducing his craft in England.

W. Symington. He made a steam passage on the Firth of Forth in 1790. His craft was constructed with Wm. Miller, who was first to patent paddle-wheels.

It is unfair to call any one man the inventor of the steamboat. It was the cumulative result of the labors of many men in several countries and not the unaided invention of any one individual. The same is true of wireless. Marconi frequently acknowledged his indebtedness to Righi of Balogna and Hertz of Germany, among others, and credit is also due to Maxwell, Oersted, Faraday, Crookes, Branly, Popoff, Lodge and others.

The first wireless distress signal was sent from a disabled ship at sea—the Araphoe, off Cape Hatteras, N. C., 29 years ago today. The signal flashed was not SOS, but CQD. The former was not adopted until later.

However, lifesaving at sea by means of wireless is popularly supposed to have begun the following January, when Jack Binns violated regulations to send the call for assistance which saved the passengers of S. S. Republic after it collided with S. S. Florida off Nantucket. Binns tapped out his CQD without instructions from the captain.

OTHERS OF TODAY'S YESTERDAYS

1607—Two ships with 100 emigrants sent out by Lord John Popham, chief justice of England, and Sir Fernando Gorges, under Raleigh Gilbert, arrived at Stage Island (in what is now Maine). Popham was the judge who sentenced Sir Walter Raleigh (Raleigh Gilbert's uncle) to death. He had been a drunkard, gambler and highway robber for years before he was admitted to the bar and elevated to the bench!

1731—Benjamin Franklin founded the country's first circulating library, in Philadelphia.

1794—James Barton Longacre was born in Delaware county, Pa. For years he designed all the coins of Chile and U. S., including the "Indian head" penny, the most numerous coin in history. The Indian head was not that of an Indian. The model was the sculptor's 10-year-old daughter, Sarah.

1811—Judah Philip Benjamin was born in St. Croix, West Indies, of English Jewish parents. Though he was a U. S. senator and a presidential elector from Louisiana, and attorney-general, secretary of war and secretary of state in the Confederate States of America, he was never an American citizen!

75 Years Ago Today—Carrie Jacobs Bond was born. She composed End of a Perfect Day and many another song, today lives at the end of a perfect life in California. Other birthdays: Helen Broderick, b. 1894 in Philadelphia, photoplay actress; Lloyd Nolan, b. 1902, photoplay actor; Gifford Pinchot, b. 1865, politician.

1919—The greatest struggle between President and senate before F. D. Roosevelt's court-packing attempt, began when Woodrow Wilson sent the Upper House a draft of the League of Nations covenant as submitted to the Versailles Peace Conference.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD — Charles Bickford, six-foot film star, hails the return of he-man pictures:

"When drawing room comedies were in favor, and the plot, such as it was, hung on subtle and affected morsels of light dialogue, I experienced plenty of worried nights."

NEW YORK — Captain J. C. Townley, relief commander of the Queen Mary, learns the rival Normandie has chalked up a new trans-atlantic record, and snorts:

"Records? You can't eat them. What good are they if you have to anchor five hours before landing passengers."

LOS ANGELES — Mary Brian defends her colleagues:

"If there's nothing new under the sun, there are plenty of people in Hollywood who manage to gloss over old ideas pretty well."

NEW YORK — Captain Max Pruss, command of the ill-fated Hindenburg, leaves the hospital, preparatory to returning to Germany, and reaffirms his faith in zeppelins:

"Next year we will come to America every two weeks with new helium-inflatex zeppelins."

Four Projects Seek Approval

Many Improvements Will Be Made By General State Authority

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—The General State Authority, regulatory body in the commonwealth's proposed $65,000,000 institutional building program, sent four more projects to Washington today for approval of PWA authorities.

With completion of plans and preliminary surveys on the four projects, estimated to cost more than $4,665,000, projects in the amount of more than $60,000,000 were in the hands of federal PWA officials. The inaugural project on the vast program, construction work at the Laurelton State Village, has been formally approved by Washington. The project, estimated to cost $1,225,000, is to start about October 1. The state received an outright grant of $188,000 from the federal government.

A $2,746,250 industrial school for boys to be constructed at White Hill, Cumberland county, was among the four most recent projects sent to Washington. Other projects call for improvements and new construction at East Stroudsburg, Kutztown and Lock Haven State Teachers colleges.

Seek Passage Of New Sugar Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Daring the threat of a presidential veto, the senate sugar bloc today sought passage of a compromise sugar stabilization bill, placing Puerto Rico and Hawaii refineries on a percentage production basis.

The compromise was fought by Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who demanded the insular possessions be freed of all limitations on the refining of their sugar crops. This demand was opposed by organized labor and American sugar interests, who declared it would drive continental refineries out of business while turning their business over to new refineries in the islands.

Herb McIlvenny Gives Some News What To Expect Thursday Night

Annual Martin Gantz Reunion At Downtown Christian Church

In the paragraphs which follow, J. Herb McIlvenny, eminent scribe for the yearly Martin Gantz school reunions, gives the first authentic account of what is going to happen on Thursday. First we might say that the reunion will take place at the First Christian church on the public square. It will start at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Dinner will be served in the dining room at 6:30. The rip-roarin' program of which Herb gives you an inkling will follow. Take it over, Herb!

"Well, lads and lassies, have you got your tickets for the Big Show on Thursday, August 12? Boy oh boy! You can't afford to miss this one.

"You know I told you about Cal's bumble bees—well, that's only a starter. Herb McGoun, president, has been working like a Trojan to make this "the reunion of reunions" and at the last meeting of the committee Mayor Mayne told me privately that he had to open a second case of Coco-Cola to kind of quiet their nerves.

"Tom Dickey, the toastmaster, has dug up some new gags which Jennie and Katharyn say are real cute but Herman Hess says Tom's been readin' 'Esquire' and lookin' at the pictures.

"Besides Cal's bumblers the Urmson boys will sing 'When You and I Were Young Maggie', and that will take you back quite a way. Mayor Mayne will render an interpretation of an Eskimo love scene, assisted by Dick Dana. Then Mont Magill will recite that touching little ode, My Niblick on the Hole in One'. Karl Rohrer is down for some fancy shooting. I'm not certain whether he will use his rifle or his mouth—anyway, it will be good.

"Then there is a quartet composed of Ed Logan, Bunt Mayne, Shag Wallace and Jack Henry, with Frank Nessle on the BASE fiddle, which will knock you cold. You will recognize them in their white pants. Wes Rice and Sara Dana are on for a solo or is it a doo-ett? All in all, this reunion is goin' to be the tops—so put on your ole poke bonnet, tie a new ribbon on it and be present for the fray on Thursday, August 12, in the First Christian church. We'll be seein' you.

"J. HERB, THE SCRIBE."

Asks Legislation To Close Loopholes In U. S. Tax Laws

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. — Passage of legislation to close major loopholes in the tax laws at this session of congress was demanded today by Chairman Doughton of the senate-house tax investigating committee.

Reports that a measure might be passed in the house but delayed until January by the senate, on the theory it could be passed by March 15 and still affect this years' returns, were discounted by Doughton.

"I certainly expect a bill to be passed by congress," he said. "I would protest against a bill being passed by the house and then dropped by the senate. We are not going to do all of this work for nothing."

Mouth Organ In High Place

Larry Adler Brings Humble Instrument From Alleys To Drawing Rooms

WOMAN FINDS MISSING TARS

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Young Larry Adler has accomplished with the harmonica what the late George Gershwin accomplished with jazz.

O. O. McIntyre

He took the mouth organ out of the alleys, as Gershwin took jazz out of the honky tonks, and made it something to hear in the drawing rooms.

Adler, in his early 20's, accepted an engagement to play for voyagers on the first trip of a big liner. He decided to remain over in London a few days to see the sights. And just for a lark and "something to refer to," he took a one night job in a music hall.

His success was astonishing and literally broke up the show. The management finally had to stop the curtain calls. From then on his bookings for private appearances in Mayfair swamped him. He played for many dinners that had royalty as guests.

Afterward he toured England at the head of his own company, made several movie shorts, and fulfilled special engagements on the continent. Thus a stay intended to be only a few days ended in one of several months—with a nice financial pick-up to boot.

One of the interesting characters at the Seaman's Institute on South street is Mother Roper. For 48 years she has been finding missing seamen and restoring them to relatives. In all, she has reclaimed more than 5,000. Men who sail the seven seas so often eventually sever home ties. They are poor letter writers and in time become monsyllabic talkers. Often groups will sit in rest rooms all evening without exchanging a half dozen words.

Staten Island seems to me New York's "forgotten suburb." Most people think only of the ferry boats that ply back and forth. In ways it's one of sturdiest of metropolitan residential areas. People own their homes and are garden conscious. Many printers live there along with others engaged in the mechanics of publishing. Staten Islanders are rarely the suburbanites one sees in the Broadway movies or theatres. They like to get home from their work and putter about in their yards. They enjoy such old time simplicities as horse shoe pitching. And refuse to become "citified."

Add boyhood thrills: Backing a letter to the tax assessor for grandma.

There is often delightful overstatement in the signs of the dinky portable ice cream and drink stands that roam the sweltering streets. On one near the Chrysler building the other day I noticed: "The Metropolitan Ice Cream Distributing Co., Inc. Forty Second Street Branch. Tony Lacarro, President."

Tenement districts spend much spare change on iced concoctions. Not many of the delicacies are more than a penny and what is known as a Three Center is a full meal. A doctor who does much social service work says that the majority of these edibles so indigestible to the average stomach are consumed with a gusto and relish in the slums. There are rarely any digestive upsets from their use yet when one of the Little Rollos on Upper Park indulges some comparatively high priced yum yum out of a sanitized wagon it is often necessary to round up a doctor and day and night nurses.

Each year, tailors three sheet a list of best dressed men—usually including Adolphe Menjou and Clifton Webb. The list brackets the sartorial conscious who are spruce enough but, the truth is, New York has not had a real dandy for years. Such as E. Berry Wall. Among sedate dressers few equal Jacob Ruppert and Whitney Warren. William Gaxton tops in wardrobe dazzle among stage folk.

The most perfectly groomed man I ever saw was the late Jean Patou, Paris dress maker. He went in for blends of single colors. One that struck me was ash gray—suit, hat, stick, spats, shirt, collar and even gray cuff links. The only color relief was a Burgundy red four in hand and a pinch of breast pocket kerchief of that hue. I galloped to my customer to have him rig me out in the same fashion. But the result looked like a misprint from Esquire.

Mower Blade Cuts Head Off Fawn

EAST PALESTINE, O., Aug. 11.—A young fawn, secreted by its mother under a low-hanging apple tree, was accidentally decapitated by a tractor mower, being operated in the Kyes orchards east of this city. The natural protective instinct of the fawn to remain absolutely still and invisible in the face of danger, led to its untimely end.

It is nothing unusual for farmers to decapitate nesting quail and pheasants, but this is the first instance in this section of the country where a wild deer has been injured by harvesting machinery.

Five Hundred Quail Arrive

Shipment Will Be Kept At Jordan State Game Farm Over Winter

BIRDS SENT FROM FISHER GAME FARM

For the first time in the history of the Jordan State Game Farm, the feathered tenants cannot all be listed under the classification of "pheasants". A shipment of 500 young quails hatched at the Fisher farm in the eastern part of Pennsylvania has just arrived and will be kept at the Jordan farm for release next spring.

These young Bob Whites have been quartered in 20 small pens and are demanding a great amount of attention from the farm superintendent and employes. In the first place, they are not quite as good natured as the pheasants and need 20 instead of several pens. Then, in order to keep them from becoming contaminated they must have wire-bottomed pens.

The shipment was made to the Jordan farm because there are facilities for keeping the birds here over the winter, and because they are to be released in this section anyhow, next spring. The birds are now six weeks old.

Local Residents In Accident At Lewistown, Pa.

Hit-Run Driver Caught After Hitting Car Carrying Local Rresidents

Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Audino and daughter Theresia of 802 Arlington avenue, and their cousin, Anthony Audino, Lyndal street, and Mrs. Gerald McAnallen and son, Billy Joe, Finch street, all of this city, figured in an accident when returning home from a week's trip to Canada, Quebec and Nev. York state, on the main highway at Lewistown, Pa.

The Audino car was heading toward Pennsylvania, and while traveling, a large truck with a transportation trailer, was coming in the opposite direction. The truck passed the Audino car, but the trailer sideswiped the car carrying the New Castle folks, swerved it across the road, throwing Mrs. McAnallen and Anthony Audino out. Both received bruises, cuts and shock. Mrs. McAnallen also had her back seriously injured. The other occupants, however, were not seriously injured. Patsy Audino, the driver, was injured in the stomach and back, being thrown against the steering wheel and Mrs. Audino sustained severe cuts and bruises about the nose and mouth. She was thrown against the windshield. The children didn't receive a scratch.

The driver of the truck kept on going, but he was caught about fifteen miles beyond the scene of the accident, and taken by police authorities. A hearing was held at the offices of Alderman Brush in Lewistown. The local residents are home and all under the care of physicians here. They came on by train, to New Castle. The Audino car was badly damaged, and it is thought beyond repair.

Charge Smuggling To Noted Flyer

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—An indictment on charges of smuggling today added to the many woes of Charles A. Levine, the "flying junkman."

Levine, who became the first transatlantic airplane passenger when he flew with Clarence Chamberlin from New York to Germany in 1927, was indicted by a federal grand jury. The former junk dealer is accussed of receiving, concealing and transporting 2,000 pounds of hydrogen-reduced tungsten powder and of conspiracy to smuggle 5,000 pounds into this country by way of Toronto and Buffalo. There is a duty of $1 a pound on the tungsten.

Indicted with Levine were John H. Klugh, a Negro Pullman porter; Meyer Brenner, a Toronto metal dealer, and Harry Feinberg, also of Toronto. However, the offenses are not extraditable and Brenner and Feinberg, who are in Canada, will escape prosecution if they remain there. Klugh was arrested last January.

China Contracts For Large Supply Of U. S. Gasoline

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—China has contracted for 20,000,000 gallons of high test American gasoline, presumably for use in airplanes, it was revealed here today.

The order, largest of its kind in the history of the California oil basin, was completed through the Pacific Petroleum Co., according to information.

Value of the cargo, which will be moved across the Pacific in a fleet of tankers, was set at $2,778,780. It is to be financed by English gold, according to report.

Consummation of the contract required a permit from the Ethyl corporation for shipment of leaded gasoline out of the United States, and this permit was granted yesterday.

At the same time another phase of oriental affairs centered in Los Angeles when the United States attorney's office here issued formal warnding to Gen. Russel L. Hearn, aide of Chinese war lords, against recruiting activities in this country.

Gen. Hearn appeared voluntarily at the attorney's office to deny reports he was recruiting aviators for China. He was told that a prison sentence awaits anyone signing up Americans to fight in the orient.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Vandenberg Is Growing Strong

Looms As Logical G. O. P. Candidate, Washington Writer Believes

HAS PROVEN ABLE SENATOR

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Unofficial nominations to the presidency are common enough. One politician or another everlastingly is suggesting someone as his party's best candidate for the next campaign.

But generally it is for his own party only that he undertakes to speak.

It remained for Postmaster General James A. Farley, as chairman of the Democratic national committee, to give a word of advice to the Republicans.

Farley pointed to Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan as the G. O. P.'s natural 1940 selection. He did not express it, indeed, exactly as a compliment to Vandenberg. What he said was that the Republicans haven't anyone else to nominate. It wasn't better than a qualified compliment, anyway.

* * *

A FIGHTING SENATOR

But what kind of a candidate WOULD Vandenberg make, at that?

He is an extremely high class senator. Of the few Republicans in the upper congressional chamber, since the last two or three overwhelming Democratic victories at the polls, he has shown fighting quality.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon is the nominal leader of the G. O. P. in the senate, but McNary is a politician rather than a statesman; nobody hints at him presidentially. Senators William E. Borah of Idaho and Hiram W. Johnson of California are in the statesman class. But they are doubtful Republicans; independents, rather. Too old, likewise.

There are a few others, who are overly conservative or otherwise unsuitable.

* * *

NO REPRESENTATIVE

No representative is even mentioned.

Congressman Bertrand H. Snell is the Republican representatives' leader. Do I hear any second to his G. O. P. presidential nomination? No? I thought not. Once, possibly, in the hard-boiled olden days. Not in these times.

Any governors?

There are eight Republicans in gubernatorial seats:

Merriam, California; Barrows, Maine; Nice, Maryland; Murphy, New Hampshire (not Michigan); Hoffman, New Jersey; Langer, North Dakota; Jensen, South Dakota; Aiken, Vermont.

Who is there in that list who sounds presidential?

Maybe, at one time, Hoffman so rated himself, but he knows better now. As to the remaining seven—no.

* * *

WHO ELSE?

Looking around elsewhere:

Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota? Nye is almost a slight possibility, but not quite.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana? True, he is a Democrat, but, at this juncture, there is no reason why a Democrat should not accept a Republican presidential nomination. Still, he seems unlikely.

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York? Sometimes he is a Republican. However, at present he is more a Democrat (if the New Deal is Democratic) than he is a Republican. So he would not do.

The "young La Follettes"?, But they are New Dealers; no longer Republicans.

No one would propose running Alf M. Landon again.

* * *

"MILD" IMPORTANT

The next Republican presidential nominee obviously has got to be a mild liberal.

A liberal—but MILD.

Vandenberg is "it".

It looks to me as if Farley might be right, unless conditions change meanwhile, in some unforeseen way. They have a trick of doing that.

Motor Vehicle Registration Is Over 2,000,000

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—For the first time in Pennsylvania history, motor vehicle registration now exceeds 2,000,000, Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman announced today.

The sudden spurt in registration was attributed by Boardman to half-fee licenses which became effective Aug. 1.

Pennsylvania now joints New York and California, the only other states whose motor vehicle registrations exceed the 2,000,000 mark, Boardman said.

According to the revenue head, it took the commonwealth 17 years to reach the 1,000,000 mark in 1923.

Lightning Destroys North Beaver Barn

William Hope Loses Summer Crops And All This Farm Machinery

During a storm Monday evening lightning struck and completely destroyed a large barn on the Mt. Jackson-Petersburg road in North Beaver township belonging to William Hope. The bolt struck about 7 o'clock in the evening, tearing off one corner of the barn and setting the hay on fire.

At the risk of his life, Mr. Hope managed to save two horses and two sets of harness. He was overcome by smoke just as he released the second horse, but quickly revived.

Everything else in the barn was burned, including hay, wheat, harness and farm machinery of all kinds, and the family dog. Heroic efforts were made to release the dog, but the flames spread so rapidly that it could not be done.

The loss is estimated at several thousand dollars, partly covered by insurance.

Local Men Go To Army Trade Schools Today

Take Advange Of Recent Offer Of Government For Trade Instruction

Taking advantage of the recent offer made by the United States government to learn a useful trade or profession, two young men from this district enlisted in the army service through the local station.

Paul T. Mills, R. D. 1, son of Mrs. Julia Mills and Peter P. Semansky, R. D. 1, son of Mrs. Anna Semansky, are the two men. These recruits were accepted today by the Pittsburgh station of the recruiting service.

They are now enroute to Company A, Eight Quartermaster Regiment and Detachment Quartermaster at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.

At this post these locals will be given their chance of attending a trade school of their choice. Many trades are offered in this way which are useful following the soldiers discharge from the service.

Report C. I. O. Force To Converge Upon Dearborn Plant

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—While Gov. Frank Murphy directed precautions to maintain order, a force of 1,000 members of the CIO's United Automobile Workers Union was to converge on Dearborn this afternoon to distribute union papers at the gates of Henry Ford's main plant.

Among them will be Richard T. Frankensteen and Walter Reuther, two union leaders, who were among the score of unionists beaten last May 26 when the first handbill distribution attempt ended in a riot.

Gov. Murphy ordered State Police Commander Oscar G. Olander to be on hand as an observer after Dearborn city officials indicated they would not furnish unionists police protection. The governor said, however, that he did not believe this afternoon's attempt would end in disorder and that a large force of state police was not necessary.

School Teacher Makes Defense

Waynesburg Teacher Denies That She Taught Evolution Theory In Class

(International News Service)

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Aug. 11.—With a firm denial entered that she taught evolution to her young charges or beat two pupils with a baseball bat, the schoolteacher of Kirby's one-room red-brick schoolhouse today awaited a decision of the agricultural community's school board following a hearing.

Farmers of the small community, with their wives and children, packed the gas-lit schoolroom until past midnight, when the hearing ended, to hear the defense of Mrs. Laura Elms Morris to charges she maltreated her pupils and taught them high-fallutin' stuff about Darwin.

"Did a crtain pupil show you a magazine article on evolution?" Jess R. Scott, the school board attorney, asked her. The audience stirred.

"Yes."

"What did you tell him?"

"I told him there was a theory of evolution worked out by a man named Darwin. I said some people support his theory and others reject it. I told him I didn't have time to explain it all to him, but that he could read about it in the book of knowledge.

"The whole thing was passed off in the school as a joke. That was all that was ever said in my school house about evolution." Three boys and a girl testified however she had taught them Darwins theory.

Mrs. Morris, who is fighting for reinstatement following dismissal on charges of cruelty, testified she never used a baseball bat on any of her charges, confining herself, she said, to the use of a window stick which she placed "squarely on the seat" of a recalcitrant pupil who had "sassed" her.

The board announced a decision would be made in a few days.

East Sider Enters Councilmanic Race

Lester W. McClellland A Candidate For Republican Nomination On Sept. 14

LESTER W. McCLELLAND

Lester W. McClelland of 923 Adams street a lifelong resident of the East Side today announces his candidacy for nomination to city council on the Republican ticket. His statement of announcement follows:

"In the past several years it has become increasingly evident, that either through carelessness or design, that section of New Castle lying east and south of Washington street has not been given the consideration due it by the city government.

Petitions and requests for improvements of various needed kinds have been ignored, dirt streets have become rutted and nearly impassable, fire equipment has not been kept at the standard of quality this important section of the city should have and citizens of the district have decided that perhaps the reason lay in the fact that the entire city council is composed of men from one section of the city.

There is no thought that there has been any intentional discrimination against this section. The reason seems to lie in the fact that coming from one section of the city, the present administration is more in touch with their own end of the city and are quite naturally more in sympathy with it.

Geography should not be the impelling reason for electing city councilmen. If the four best men in the city lived on the same street it would be wise to name them to city council. But, other things being equal, ability, judgement and a proper regard for the rights of taxpayers, it does seem that the logical thing to do would be to have the various parts of the city represented in city council.

The taxes of the district east and south of Washington street are proportionately as high as those of the other parts of the city. The citizens are entitled to the same consideration, it naturally follows.

I am aware of the old time political aphorism that candidates sometimes announce themselves 'at the request of many friends.' In my own case I can truthfully say that my decision to run for the Republican nomination is actuated by the insistence of citizens of the district in which I live that they should have some representation in council.

Should I be nominated and elected I have no intention of representing only that section. I do intend to see that it gets a square deal. It asks for nothing more, it is worthy of nothing less.

As to my qualifications for the office I believe they are the equal of those other men who seek a similar honor. Born here, educated here, I have been a salesman for many years working in every part of the city. As to any mention of intentions, veracity or quality of character I leave that to be said by those who know me best."

"AS SURE AS I ATE A BITE I WOULD BE IN MISERY"

Dewey Ave. Man Was Victim Of Constipation Which Caused Indigestion, Dizziness, Pains Through His Arms, Shoulders, Back And Legs. Says Vendol Gave Astonishing Relief.

MR. R. W. BILLMAN, THE VENDOL MAN at New Castle Drug Co.

Many interesting cases are reported to the Vendol Man who is explaining the merits of this astonishing medcine made of roots, herbs and alkalines, in the New Castle Drug Co., 35 E. Washington Street, but none are of more real interest or tell such an every-day human story than that related by Mr. James Murray of 1017 Dewey Ave. a few days ago, who said:

"For over three years I was in a constantly miserable condition. I was badly constipated, very nervous and unable to sleep well, and my digestion was so bad that almost every mouthful I ate resulted in sourness, gas and acid risings. The pains that shot through my arms, shoulders and back were so severe that they made almost every movement a torture.

"Many times I would be going along when everything would turn black and I would be so dizzy I had to grab hold of something till it passed off. I tried about everything I ever heard of in an effort to find relief, and although I spent many dollars on various treatments, I got no real benefits.

"I had become disgusted with everything and was giving up hope, when I began to hear people tell of Vendol and how this medicine was helping them, so I started asking nearly everyone I'd meet what they knew of Vendol and so many praised it that I got some.

"Vendol proved to be exactly what I needed. It soon had my bowels moving and this relief from constipation also brought relief from indigestion, gas in my stomach and those awful pains in my muscles and joints. I haven't felt dizzy lately and get sound, restful sleep every night. Vendol changed my entire feelings and I wouldn't take anything for it."

What Vendol did for this home town person it will also do for you so don't delay getting some. Come to the New Castle Drug Co., 35 E. Washington St. and let the Vendol Man tell you all about this medicine. The New Castle Drug at 24 N. Mill St., Schweitzer's Pharmacy at Ellwood City, and all other leading druggists sell and recommend Vendol.

Twenty Thousand Young Pheasants Already Shipped

Great Hatching Record Achieved This Year At Jordan Game Farm

THOUSANDS STILL AWAIT SHIPMENT

Although all hatching for this year is over, the wheels of that great pheasant industry at the Jordan State Game farm, just otuside of Harlansburg, have not slackened their pace, and the main job right now is to see that thousands of young healthy ringnecks are set on the road to freedom.

Nearly 20,000 birds have been crated up in the past few weeks, placed on trucks, and transported to places in all parts of Western Pennsylvania for release by game protectors.

Superintendent V. T. Warfel, of the Jordan farm, has a right to be pleased by this year's production. Here is the score:

Total eggs laid—92,000.
Total chicks hatched—36,700.

Equipment Useful

That is a record that would not have been possible if the farm had not installed additional incubating equipment last spring.

All of the fertile eggs, with the exception of those placed in the incubators at the farm, were carefully wrapped, crated and shipped to sportsmen who had volunteered to see that the pheasant chicks were hatched and later, released.

Of the birds hatched at the Jordan farm 17,200 were shipped out when one-day old. The rest (19,500) were placed in the farm's own brooders and about 2,500 of these have been shipped out when they reached the age of ten weeks.

Laying Hens Released

The egg-laying total would have gone over 100,000 this year but it was thought advisable to ship out for release in early June 600 hens who were at that time laying very productively. Of this number Lawrence county was fortunate in securing 500 and it is likely that pheasant hunting in this section next fall will be better than it has been ever before. The hens quite likely raised large families for themselves in the wild.

Hatching was finished at the Jordan farm on July 20 and since that time Superintendent Warfel and his men have been concentrating upon shipping and carrying for the thousands of bird-boarders.

Plan Spring Release

There are 17,000 pheasants, young and old, at the farm right now, and they demand a great deal of attention. Seven thousand males will be held there for spring release, plus 2,000 hens for breeds. This is an increase of winter boarders over last year. The spring release has proven to be very satisfactory. The husky, full grown males, released in the spring, can allow their fancies to turn to thoughts of love without worrying about dodging shotguns.

As there is no open season on females most of the lady birds are being taken for their rides now, at the age of ten weeks.

Doris Major Is With Circus As Bareback Rider

Missing Washington Girl Will Be Allowed To Remain With Circus Troupe

(International News Service)

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 11.—Pretty Doris Major, 27, was "packing 'em in" at the circus in which she rides bareback a big chestnut horse.

She became a special attraction through the publicity concerning her disappearance from her Washington, D. C., apartment eight days ago, and belief of her friends that she may have drowned while swimming in the Potomac.

Malcolm G. Major, a Washington newspaper artist, the father, was so overjoyed in finding his daughter safe he granted her plea that she be allowed to remain with the circus.

Employe Saves Gasoline Tanks

(International News Service)

SAYRE, Pa., Aug. 11.—Lightning ignited a 16,000-gallon gasoline tank here Tuesday but failed to daunt Wilton Forbes, an employe on the scene.

Seizing a fire extinguisher, Forbes climbed up a 25-rung ladder and put out the fire. Two other large tanks were within a few feet of the blaze.

Veteran Truckers To Meet Tonight

Members of the Veteran Truckers' Association of Lawrence county have called a meeting for tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at 622 Lutton street.

Many items of importance will be before the association at this meeting, and a large attendance is expected.

Registration In Mercer County Falls Far Short

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 11.—With the returns from the registration of August 7 incomplete, there is every indication that the total when complete will be far short of the expected enrollment and a disappointment to the party leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties.

A total registration of 12,125 voters in 72 districts affected by the new registration law was the total prefacing the registration day on August 7. The registration is so light that it will barely add 5,000 additional voters and from returns now available will not change results. The Republicans still lead in the county returns. The G. O. P. had a lead of 4,300 in the county prefacing this last registration which would not change results, it is stated.

August 14 is the final registration day. It is expected to be a record-breaker.

Many Schools In State Merged

In Neighborhood Of 4,500 Schools Merged Since 1890

LEGISLATION AIDED MERGERS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—The State Council of Education at its first meeting received a report by Dr. Lee L. Driver, recently retired chief of the division of consolidation and transportation in the department of public instruction, which shows approximately 4500 schools merged since 1890 into 881 consolidated schools.

The merging of schools in Pennsylvania, while in progress for almost half a century, was adopted as a department of public instruction policy in 1919. The state council of education was charged with the encouragement of this movement. In the same legislature that this commission was given the state council, a bill was passed virtually prohibiting the rebuilding or remodeling of one-room schools if merging were feasible. The right of school directors to close any school for practically any purpose or the mandate to close any school having an average daily attendance of ten or less than ten, was the basis upon whirh the administration of merging was placed.

The 881 consolidated schools are attended by approximately 175,000 children. This attendance includes children in consolidated junior high schools, but does not include those in senior high schools. It is significant to note that in no case in the entire state has a consolidated school ever been abandoned to return to the one-teacher system.

With proper administration and financial encouragement, the report states, the number of one-room schools in the state could be reduced from its present number of approximately 6,000 to not more than 1,000. There are 2,300 rural school districts in Pennsylvania.

The principal reason for the increasing trend toward school mergers is that it offers better opportunities to apply modern presentation of material of instruction and effective school administration to the rnral school problem than any other form of reorganization. For this reason the policy of the state council has been to advocate larger units rather than smaller ones.

Indian Squaw 110 Has Modern Ways

Puffs Cigarettes And Eats Ice Cream, Just Like Her White Sisters

(International News Service)

WOODLAND, Cal., Aug. 10—Mrs. Julia Richards, an Indian squaw, had celebrated her one-hundred tenth birthday today, sitting cross-legged on her bed in county hospital here, puffing though a pack of cigarettes quicker than a nervous debutante.

She ate a mound of vanilla ice cream and patted the heads of children visitors with a maternal gentleness.

Then she taught her nurses a few words of Indian, and lay back for an afternoon nap.

A patient in the hospital for three years, "Grandma" Julia is regarded by the nurses as their best patient. Perhaps this is because she has never ventured to advice any one how to grow old or how to retrain vigor.

Allowed Smoking Privilege

She is one of the few patients allowed to smoke without censure in her room, and she does this incessantly.

Whenever she ventures from bed it is to visit the nearby maternity ward. "Grandma" is fond of children and often plays with her only "child" which is a big doll named Cookie.

No one, not even Grandma herself knows what Indian tribe she belongs to. A resident of Knights Landing, California, for generations, she has "forgotten" her tribe and its name.

But, she still teaches the nurses how to speak her language.

Anti-Third Term Resolution Will Not Get Congress Action

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The anti-third term amendment to the constitution which Senator Royal S. Copeland introduced in the senate—and aimed straight at President Roosevelt's head—was scheduled today to join the innumerable host of other proposed constitutional amendments in the mausoleum of the forgotten. It will not pass the senate, nor the house, and if it did it would fail of ratification by the states.

Dr. Copeland's move was interpreted today as simply another artillery shell in the highly explosive New York mayoralty situation which has split the New York democracy squarely in two—the same New York democracy which nine months ago gave Mr. Roosevelt the greatest electoral majority in history.

Going further back, it is another chapter in the long political feud between Franklin D. Roosevelt and Al Smith, which had its inception long before Mr. Roosevelt was president of the United States, a feud that prompted Al to "take a walk." In the 1932 campaign and support for the first time in his life a Republican candidate for the presidency, Alf M. Landon.

The bitterness between the two camps, the Smith-Tammany-Copeland faction, and the Roosevelt-New Deal faction in the democracy of New York, is almost impossible to over-emphasize. It has gotten to the public name-calling stage, with the lieutenants calling the names, and the principals, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Smith, in the wings directing strategy. Before it is ended, this embittered mayoralty situation may have national repercussions.

Airport Work Slowed Due To Heavy Rains

Expect Port To Be Completed During Latter Part Of October

Expectations of having all of the base stone in place on the various airport runways by the end of this week, were changed during this past week due to the heavy rains.

A great deal of heavy equipment is now needed for this work, and this equipment operating over wet ground cuts up the now smooth earth runways. In order to save unnecessary expense of again making the port smooth, officials stop the work when the ground is soggy.

According to Ted Levie, county WPA superintendent in charge of this airport work, if plans all work out as they are now planned, the new municipal airport will be ready for use during the latter part of October.

Plans are now being made to secure the machinery for the application of the black top surface. According to Levie, it will not be possible to get this machinery at the field before the end of August. After this equipment arrives it is expected that about one month of work will see the black surface completed.

Huge Cash Reserve Will Be Maintained

New Federal Financing Policy Being Studied By Treasury Officials

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—A new federal financing program entailing the borrowing of more than $1,000,000,000 was studied today by treasury officials.

Fiscal spokesmen indicated the current foreign political disturbances will necessitate continuation of the policy of maintaining a large cash reserve.

This money would be used for the protection of American interests abroad. Last year, the treasury maintained between $750,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 in its cash balance for this purpose. During the spring, this fund was allowed to diminish because of heavy federa. expenditures, but since June the government has kept its cash margin well above $1,000,000,000.

While no definite figure has been determined, it is likely the treasury will borrow at least $400,000,000 through issuance of short term securities. The program is scheduled for September at which time the government also must refinance $817,483,000 of maturing notes and pay off in cash $350,000,000 maturing bills.

If the administration decides to keep treasury cash reserves well above the $1,000,000,000 mark it may be forced to float a larger issue. In addition, the treasury could continue its current $100,000,000 weekly bill issues. Through its weekly offerings the treasury borrows money at low interest rates and repays it within a year.

Margiotti Makes Contract Ruling

Says Separate Contracts Must Be Awarded For Work On All State Authority Projects

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti today ruled that separate contracts must be awarded for plumbing, heating, ventilating and electrical work in public buildings erected by the general state authority.

At the same time he ruled that contracts must be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder.

Aimed at eliminating "chiseling," the ruling, Margotti pointed out, would make it impossible for contractors to skimp on any phase of the work.

The state authority is in charge of the commonwealth's proposed $65,000,000 institutional building program.

"Under a lump sum contract," Margiotti said, "contractors might skimp on the electrical phase of the work to make up for unanticipated high cost of installing plumbing."

To support his ruling, the attorney general cited an act of 1913 which requires separate bids in the construction of all public buildings.

McNutt rules that he must be toasted before the President of the Philippines. It's only fair. The Islanders owe their freedom to the nuts.

Ends His Life In New York Prison

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—In the darkness of gloomy old Tombs prison, a self-made gallows tree bore its bitter fruit Tuesday.

Facing a trial as a forger after admitting theft of $25,000 from his employes, Robert Gray, 55, an accountant, looped his belt over a cross bar in his cell and hanged himself.

A trusted employe of a Fifth avenue firm, Gray forged checks because, he said, he wanted to assure his wife and two children the good things of life.

HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY YEAR

DEMOCRATIC SENATORS GIVE BARKLEY TRIBUTE

Harmony Dinner Most Successful

Letter From President Roosevelt Is Read During Evening Program

MANY SENATORS MAKE SPEECHES

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Senator Alben Barkley, of Kentucky, resumed his duties as senate majority leader today with words of fulsome praise still ringing in his ears from last night's "Harmony Dinner" in his honor. Some of the warmest were from President Roosevelt, who did not attend the stag banquet.

Whether the "harmony" would last on the Democratic side of the senate was problematical but for a night at least liberals and conservatives, New Dealers and Anti-New Dealers, forgot their differences long enough to join around the dinner table in honoring the new leader.

President's Message Read

The president's message was read as Vice President Garner presided. Mr. Roosevelt, who had decided against attending because he preferred not to make a speech to senate Democrats at this time, carefully avoided any controversal subject in his letter.

"Alben," wrote the president, "is not only a political friend but is a friend in a very real and very deep personal sense. Our associations cover long and delightful years. We have traveled together; we have barnstormed together; we have known the exultation of victory and we have been together in times of mutual commiseration.

"I know that everyone present this evening will agree with me that Alben Barkley is greatly distinguished for the things he does not say as well as the things he does say. Whether he was born that way or has acquired this marvelous restraint through years of self-discipline, I do not know. But I do know it is a great asset.

Speeches Made

Speeches were made by Garner, Barkley and Senators Lewis of Illinois, Glass of Virginia, Wheeler of Montana, leader of the bitter fight which caused the administration to withdraw Mr. Roosevelt's supreme court enlargement bill for a substitute measure affecting only the minor fedarl courts, Harrison of Mississippi, who lost the leadership post to Barkley by a single vote, Smith of South Carolina, McKellar of Tennessee, Pittman of Nevada and Sheppard of Texas. All stressed the need for party harmony and the burying of the hatchet on old scores.

Sixty senators turned out for the "love feast" during which two live pigeons, representing "doves of peace" perched on the wall decorations. Among the absentees who sent notice of their regrets were Senators Wagner of New York, Bailey of North Carolina, Hattie Caraway of Arkansas, Bankhead of Alabama, Hayden of Arizona, Duffy of Wisconsin, Russell of Georgia, Tydings of Maryland, and Donahey of Ohio.

Mrs. Enzo Fiermonte Dishes Out $10,000

Prize Fighter Husband Hits Photographer In Eye Worth $10,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Settlement was made today in the $10,000 "black eye" suit against Enzo Fiermonte, the heavyweight with the perfect record—he never won a fight.

Enzo was said to have paid "in four figures" for blackening the eye of John Drennan, photographer, when the latter attempted to take his picture last month.

"We received a substantial cash settlement," said former District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards, counsel to Drennan, as the suit was withdrawn in Nassau county court.

Enzo, who now is in Europe with his wife, the former Mrs. William Force Actor Dick, surprised everyone by hitting Drennan July 6 last after being sentenced to 5 days in jail on an old speeding charge he served it, too.

No Further Search For Amelia Earhart Husband Announces

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 11.—No further search for Amelia Earhart, famous aviatrix lost in the South Seas, is contemplated, her husband, George Palmer Putnam, publisher, revealed here Tuesday during a short stop at the county airport. The flier's husband was enroute to Los Angeles after a visit with Miss Earhart's sister in New York.

Noted Here And There In Other Newspapers

Freedom is fine if you're used to it, but no fun if you're not. Perhaps that's why so many widowers remarry. Anyhow, that's why an odd-looking spotted canary came to Mrs. M. A. Phelps' back porch at Tulsa the other day and insisted that she let it get into a bird cage which stood there. Mrs. Phelps finally opened the door of the cage and the little stranger hopped right in and sat, tired but happy, on the tiny perch. On one of its wings had been stamped the numeral "31".

The editor of the Oil City Derrick asserted, 60 years ago, that the slowest American lived in Oil City. "It is a common occurance for his watch to run down while he is winding it up." Ho hum. How did that get ino this column, anyhow?

Here's a live'ner-upper. County Clerk W. H. Sawyer of Raleigh, N. C., got this letter from a woman whose name he withheld: "Will you please let me know whether or not I'm divorced, for if I am not divorced I am in a hell of a fix. I have just got married again." Sawyer, after checking the records, eased the lady's mind.

Two men jumped from their respective cars at Gooding, Idaho, following a main street collision and said the usual words. Traffic Officer Earl Williams came along and gave each a ticket for illegal parking. Everything turned out fine—a fine for each driver.

A pair of goldfish left sloshing around in a bowl on the back seat was the strangest object anyone ever left in his taxi cab, the driver, Charles Phillips, of Wichita Falls, Tex., commented in an interview.

Denver, Colorado, had a pipin' hot mystery the other day that had everything in goose pimples and if Richard Plass, 55, hadn't returned home and spoiled it all, it might have made the Sunday feature sections. Frank A. Cameron, a special railroad agent, passed the little shack where Plass lived alone many years, didn't see him around, and believed something might have happened. He broke into the shack and found—a gruesome scarecrow with a skull for a head, marbles for eyes and a long, red beard. A weird discovery, all the countryside agreed, and some went so far as to call it gristly. But Plass came home in midst of the excitement and placidly announced that he had gone into Denver to spend the night with his mother before going to a dentist to have a tooth pulled. Yes, he put the scarecrow there himself because "I had to do something to keep those danged kids from breaking in my place when I was away."

On Court House Hill

Tuesday, August 17, will be the last day for filing divorce applications, if they are to be heard at divorce court which will be held by Judges Chambers and Braham, ten days later.

Arguments were heard by Judge James A. Chambers at court yesterday in the habeas corpus case of Ruth McCreary against Glenn McCreary for possession of their three year old daughter. Judge Chambers will hand down his decision later.

An appeal to the supreme court on the part of the defense has been taken in the case of Robert Smiley against Robert Lang, Roy L. Haenel and the Vortex Cup Company. The case grew out of an automobile accident in which Smiley was severely injured. He was awarded a verdict of $12,165, one of the largest verdicts ever given in an automobile accident case.

In the William Dunn estate Judge James A. Chambers handed down an opinion today fixing the compensation of Attorney William McElwee, Jr., counsel for Margaret R. Dunn, administratrix, at $3,000. Objections to the court fixing the fee had been raised by other parties of interest, partly on the grounds that the court had no jurisdiction. Judge Chambers finds the objections without merit and fixes the fee in accordance with long established rules of court.

At the close of business on Saturday the county treasury showed the following sums on hand, according to figures from the books of County Controller Frank Hill: General fund, $296,077.46; poor fund, $146,806.67; gasoline fund, $75,103.12. While this may look like a lot of money, it takes a fat wallet to run the county's business, as will be seen by the following figures: Disbursements from the general fund during the past seven months have amounted to $301,916, or an average of about $43,143.84 per month; disbursements from the poor fund during the same period, have been $128,326.70, or an average of about $18,332.75. These figures include all expenses including salaries.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has a distinguished guest in the county jail in the person of Guiseppe Dal Canto, or Joe Ferri, as he is known in English, a noted opera singer. Dal Canto came to this country from Italy in 1926. He has made a big hit as a tenor with the Chicago Opera Company and with the Paramount company. Since coming here he has been constantly employed in opera and vaudeville companies and in addition to having traveled extensively in the United States he has toured Canada. His present home is in Detroit, Mich., but he is not there much of the time.

His acquaintance with the Lawrence county jail is due to his arrest in the eastern part of the county on Route 422 for an alleged infraction of the automobile laws. According to Canto's story, he was driving up a hill behind another car. He gave the car the horn to pass and the car slowed up. He pulled out to pass but just then some one came over the top of the hill and he dropped back behind the other car. The man coming over the top of the hill happened to be a motor policeman and Dal Canto was arrested for violation of a motor law provision which says you can't pass on a hill unless you can see three hundred feet ahead. Taken before a justice of the peace, Dal Canto was asssed $12.50, which he refused to pay, claiming his arrest was unjust. He was then sent five days to jail. Dal Canto has a lot of newspaper clippings and pictures, showing that he is an opera singer.

In the estate of Edward C. Stoner, who died at Summit county, O., a certificate showing that Mabel Stoner was appointed administratrix, has been filed at the register and recorder's office. In the estate of Margaret Louise Studebaker, who died in Worth township, Butler county, a certificate has been filed showing that letters of administration were issued to Florence K. Harlan in Butler county. The certificates were filed here owing to the fact that there is property belonging to the estates in Lawrence county.

Prothonotary John A. Edgar received a card from the postmaster at Oil City, saying that there was a letter for John A. Edgar, clerk of court, Lawrence county, Pa., mailed in his office and lacking one cent postage. The letter would be forwarded upon receipt of a one cent stamp. Edgar spent three cents, plus stationery, in sending the one cent, which puts Uncle Sam three cents to the good.

Desperado Is Rescued From Georgia Jail

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 11.—Leo McIntosh, former member of the notorious Leland Harvey gang and recognized as one of Georgia's most dangerous criminals, was freed early Tuesday by two gunmen who invaded the Cobb County jail, Marietta, and kidnaped the jailer.

McIntosh, who was returned to Georgia a month ago from Alcatraz federal prison, was under sentence of 160 years and a life term for murder, four kidnapings, highway robbery, auto theft and other crimes.

The jailer, S. T. Huddleston, was released three miles from Marietta following a wild automobile ride in custody of one of the gunmen.

McIntosh and the other desperado fled northward in a second automobile.

More Than 15,000 File Past Bier Of Woman And Baby In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—Double funeral services were held today for Mrs. Mary Boccassini and her posthumously born daughter, Frances Mary, who lived only 46 hours after being smatched from the body of her mother last Friday.

Each dressed in white silk, they lay in a single coffin, with the arms of the mother encircling the tiny infant she never saw. They lay "in state" last night for six hours in a public funeral parlor while a crowd of 15,000 men, women and children filed past the bier.

As the crowd, composed largely of women, many of whom carried babies of their own, formed four-abreast, an official of the undertaking establishments asked the father if they should be let in.

"Yes," said Dominic Boccassini, "let them see my baby. I want to thank all the people who came to see my wife and baby. It was nice of them."

Margiotti Denies Enormous Cost Of Monaghan Trials

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti today termed as "absurd" reports that the Fayette county "third degree" murder trials would cost the commonwealth $100,000 in addition to $45,000 expenses on the county.

"The only cost to the commonwealth will be the fees of two special attorneys, plus a small amount of incidental expenses," the attorney general told International News Service. "An estimate of $100,000 is absurd."

"I will fix the fees of these two special attorneys at a conference with them in Harrisburg tomorrow," he added. "I can give positive assurance the total cost to the commonwealth will be but a very small fraction of $100,000."

Margiotti declined to comment on what the cost of the trials, growing out of the death of Frank C. Monaghan, Uniontown hotelkeeper, might total.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport.

Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

GARDEN FORUM AT EAST BROOK

Forum Members Are Guests Of East Brook Garden Club This Week

A rainbow of startling magnificence was formed from the choicest blooms of the flower garden of the Lawrence county area Garden Forum members Monday evening in the Methodist church of East Brook, when the East Brook Garden club, Mrs. John Robinson, president, acted as hostess to the forum for its October meeting.

Mrs. William A. Howley, president of the forum, presided over the business meeting, when 55 responded to roll call, with 10 clubs represented. Committees were appointed with Nick Casillo named chairman of the Gunton Park Project committee, with Charles G. Lindner, Mrs. B. H. Kannenberg, Mrs. Earl McKnight and Mrs. Richard Cooper as his comembers. John Robinson was named chairman of a committee to decide what constitutes an amateur grower and what constitutes a professional grower; his fellow members are Faye Wilcox, Mrs. J. N. Fullerton, Mrs. Frank Krause, Mrs. W. O. Kerr and Nick Casillo.

Flower shows announced by the various clubs are: East Side, Aug. 26 in the Epworth Methodist church; North Beaver, August 27 and 28 in the Mt. Jackson high school; New Wilmington, September 10, the place to be announced later. Nick Casillo, president of the Men's Garden club, invited the forum to a corn roast at the home of Charles Black, East Brook, September 2, for the September meeting. At this time there will be a Frazier Zinnia show, which promises to be one of the most colorful of the early fall displays.

At conclusion of the business session, Mrs. Charles Brenner, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Vane Johns of the East Brook club, who was in charge of the evening's arrangements. Mrs. Mae McConahy pleased the group with her rendition of "Old Fashioned Flowers" with the group joining her in the chorus. Nick Casillo gave an enlightening talk on the cedar waxwing.

J. W. Anderson talked on "Transportation," relating the important part it plays in farm growing. John Robinson had a most interesting display of mushrooms, with the "destroying angel," a most poisonous species calling forth a great amount of interest; his collection included about 20 species and he explained the difference between the edible and the poisonous growths.

The climax of the evening came when Mrs. Robinson called the roll of the various clubs in the forum, and as the name was called, a representative of each club stepped forward with an artistic arrangement of flowers in the color assigned to the club, and when these were all placed, a most colorful and awe-inspiring rainbow was formed. The flowers included red zinnias and snapdragons; orange Flare cosmos, giant marigolds, calendulas, a tree from an elder tree and a dwarf boxwood, blue ageratum, larkspur, delphinium; violet leratus; yellow black eyed Susans and yellow snapdragons. At the end of the rainbow was a pot of gold, and the members of the East Brook club stepped forward and drew forth from this pot of gold the various medicinal herbs, explaining the use of each in the treatment of various ailments.

The end of the evening came all too soon for the forum members and congratulations were warmly expressed to the East Brook club for its unusual entertainment.

OUR FLAG

The new flag pole from which floats our national emblem, has been productive of much favorable comment. We who work and live under the protection of the American flag realize and appreciate the principles for which it stands—a free people, free institutions, and democratic government.

RELIEF ASSOCIATION

For the past decade Shenango Works employes have managed and operated their own relief association. The company has made the necessary deductions of dues for this very worthy cause and then turning these deductions over to the properly designated officers, who in turn, make the authorized distributions of all funds.

This association has been a real help to hundreds of workmen at times when sickness or disability has kept them from their regular occupations and when this, in many cases, was their only source of income.

The following figures show the distribution of relief association monies from its organization in 1916 to the close of 1936:

Dues, per month .....$	1.50
Benefits, per week	12.50
Receipts $752,342.96
Disbursements:
Sickness benefits $286,254.88
Funeral benefits 96,852.34
Refunded as dividends ... 328,225.74
Total $752,342.96
Administration expenses $ 44,295.44

We mention a few of the employes who helped to organize the Relief Association and who also served as officers and directors.

Jas. A. George, now retired, then hot mill superintendent, was elected as its first president.

Thos. Francis, who worked before a set of rolls for more than forty years, was the first treasurer and is now a pensioner.

Paul Lewis now retired on pension, was on the first board of directors.

This institution has always paid dividends. The lowest year, 38 per cent was returned to the members, and the highest dividend return was 65 per cent.

Those who founded this association and the past as well as the present official boards are deserving of commendation for the efficient manner in which its business has been conducted.

NEWS NOTES OF PLANTS

Harry Ford, assistant general superintendent of the New Castle Works, has been temporarily transferred to Pittsburgh offices to assist in the order department during the absence of John Wangaman.

Howard Reed of the boxing department, has just returned from his vacation.

Phil Haybarger, one of our very faithful employes with 38 years of service, has just returned from a vacation to Grand Rapids, Mich. This is his first real vacation in all these years. Needless to say, he and Mrs. Haybarger enjoyed the boat trip across Lake Erie.

Jack Ingham, Jr., is all thrills, he caught a nice three pound bass in Conneaut Lake last week.

It sure is a treat to hear Andy Angelo, one of our electricians, tell how he did New York City in short order.

Bob Fleming is now driving a new car and he and Mrs. Fleming have just returned from New York City delighted with their trip and with their inspection of the new English liner, Queen Mary.

Flowers are the hobby of John McConnell, power house engineer, and of George Louden, one of our blacksmiths, and flowers are their mutual topic of conversation. McConnell has the largest Madonna lilies, while Louden has the largest dahlias.

The following men have joined the organization at the new Fairfield Works of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company at Birmingham, Ala: Howard Rodgers, one of M. A. Brown's assistants at Shenango Works, will be the tin house superintendent at Fairfield Works. George Grace and James Barrett have already joined the clerical staff at Fairfield. Dan Cupid scored a two base, as these two young men ook time off to get married and it was Mr. and Mrs. George Grace and Mr. and Mrs. James Barrett who went south. The very best wishes of the Shenango and New Castle Works go with them.

Ordinarily the return of our employes from vacations is taken as a matter of course, but not so when Bill (Sapho) Jones returns. This morning when he arrived at his place of work in the rigging shop, a sign "Welcome Home" greeted him and also a wreath of the wildest wild flowers you ever saw.

Margaret Fleeger, forelady in the inspection department was off last week on her vacation.

Mary Delillo was in Boston for vacation.

Anna Billyk is taking the week off to get married. The lucky man is Frank Komarc. They have the best wishes of their departments for a long and happy married life.

Art Dibley spent his vacation visiting his old home and other points in Canada during the last week.

A YOUNG MAN STILL

Evan Enoch, veteran Carnegie-Illinois employe, had his first mill job at Morgam, Wales, on the M. F. Process. From there he went to Mansell, Wales.

In 1897 he came to the United States and was employed in the American Works at Ellwood, Ind., on the M. F. Stack. He went from there to Loughlin Works at Martins Ferry, from there to the Demler Works and from there to Sabraton Works at Morgantown, and when that plant closed down he came to Shenango Works, where he is employed on the M. F. Process. At all these plants, Enoch has been employed on this same type of work. In all, 51 years on the same job.

PEP JELLIES

To the average man "pep jellies" may mean little, but to the hot mill men they mean much on days when the thermometer is soaring in the nineties. These confections are intended to relieve those conditions which lead to mill cramps and heat exhaustion. Shenango Works has already bought 5,000 pounds of these jellies.

PITTSBURGH VISITORS

D. A. Barrett, vice president, and R. B. Saylor, assistant manager of operations of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, visited the Shenango and New Castle Works Monday morning. Both expressed themselves as well pleased with the appearance of the local plants.

Brazil Would Lease Warships From Uncle Sam

Storm Of Criticism Follows Proposal — Resentment In South America

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—While a storm of criticism raged in Latin-America over the proposal by the United States to lease six destroyers to Brazil, President Roosevelt today summoned to the White House Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles and Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations.

It was learned on high authority that the two officials were called for a discussion of the Brazilian proposal.

In view of the resentment aroused both in Latin-America and abroad over the proposal considerable significance was attached to the fact that Secretary of the Navy Claude H. Swanson, without explanation called off his scheduled press conference today.

"23 6/7 MILES PER GALLON IN OUR CHRYSLER ROYAL!"

"My wife and I recently drove from San Francisco to Seattle. Upon checking our mileage, we were unable to believe our Chrysler Royal could be so economical.

"Subsequent check-ups, however, proved that we were getting slightly less than 24 miles to the gallon—23 6/7 to be exact. The new Gold Seal Engine is truly a marvel!"

Gives Warning On Contracts For Parade Floats

Trades And Labor Assembly Secretary Gives Statement On Situation

John P. Brogan, secretary of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly today issued a warning to businessmen to be wary of giving contracts for the construction of floats for the Labor Day parade to other than authorized persons.

He said it had come to the attention of the officers of the body that certain individuals are soliciting contracts not only for floats but also for store front decorations.

Brogan said that Wolverine Decorators, Inc., is the only firm authorized to make such solicitation in connection with the Labor Week celebration and exposition.

He added that representatives of this firm have proper credentials and others are without authority to solicit such contracts.

Brogan also stated that all floats for the gigantic Labor Day parade require official approval of the Trades and Labor Assembly executives committee before they are entered.

The executive offices of the Trades and Labor Assembly are located in the Wallace block, telephone 468, and they would appreciate being notified of any unauthorized solicitation.

Drinking Women Severely Scored

Rev. I. Walter Nall Of Milmont Park, Delaware County Scores Evils Of Liquor

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 11.—Sharp criticism of women who drink liquor was voiced here today by the Rev. I. Walter Nall, of Milmont Park, Delaware county, at opening of the annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America.

"Today we find the cause of total abstinence has been on the wane and this at a time when we all know never of our country was there a greater need for total abstinence from strong beverage," he declared.

"Now we find on all sides young men, and alas, those who style themselves ladies, worst of all, girls, partaking of those intoxicants the imbibing of which, in former days, would have placed upon them the stamp of society's disapproval. It is a terrible condition—what alas can we say when this terrible demon seduces our beloved mothers and sisters?"

The convention was proceeded by celebration of solemn high mass in St. Peters Cathedral by the Rev. Daniel S. Coonahan, Philadelphia, national president of the Abstinence union.

Truck Situation Here Cleared Up

After a conference in Harrisburg between W. Leslie Wilson of the WPA offices here, and the state officials, the truck situation in this county is being cleared up. Under an order of a few days ago no relief owned and operated trucks were to be used on projects, and the result of this order would have been to cripple a number of projects.

Some adjustment in the order was made and trucks are operating today on nearly all projects.

Speeding Auto Derails Train

(International News Service)

GARY, Ind., Aug. 11—In a freak accident near here Tuesday, a speeding automobile derailed 25 cars of an Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad freight train.

Two negro occupants in the automobile were hurled from their car, and suffered only minor injuries. They gave their names as Edwin Martin 30, Gary, and his brother, Earl, 25.

The accident tied up all traffic until tonight on the only rail outlet for the Gary steel mills.

Joe Herno Steals Home With Winning Run In Last Of Seventh Inning

Ryantown won from the Lawrence Indies last night at the Ryantown Field 3 to 2, when young Joe Herno stole home in the last of the seventh with the winning run. The game was a pitching battle all the way with "Spud" Badurik having the better of James "Shimmy" Balla.

Both heavers allowed but seven hits, but with men on base Badurik was the better of the two. "Goo" Lanigan and Tommy Strausbaugh did the heaviest hitting for the Ryantowns.

Billyk did the best hitting for the losers.

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Six full games in the lead, the Chicago Cubs today rolled into the stretch of the National League pennant race without the services of the sparkplug of their infield, Jimmy ("Rip") Collins.

Pirates Upset Chicago Cubs

St. Louis Cardinals Defeat Reds, Dodgers Trim Phillies

WHITE SOX TOP TIGERS 6 TO 4

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—As though the game of baseball purposely had been designed that way, once a team gets well to the front and begins to really take on the appearance of a pennant-winner, the cards seem to be stacked for it.

In the last few weeks the Chicago Cubs have maintained the pace by winning a majority of games, but also by losing at the most propitious time—when the Giants were losing. In winning the pennant last year the Giants actually didn't win it at all, but backed into it through much the same process.

Pirates Top Cubs

They had an opportunity yesterday to cut the Cubs' six game lead, when the latter lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates by 6 to 5, but, instead of winning themselves, the Giants took it on the chin from the Boston Bees by 6 to 1 and thus remain right where they were in the standings.

Both games were notable for incidental dramatics. From the Cubs' standpoint the feature was a loss of Ripper Collins at first base for at least a month because of a fractured ankle, suffered in the first inning.

The local contest brought old Daniel MacFayden to the mound for the Bees and he pitched one of his best bames in winning so easily, allowing only six hits. When Cuccinello homered with two on in the fifth, Pitcher Schumacher's attempt to continue a comeback on the Giants' firing line was blasted and the game was sewed up.

St. Louis Cardinals got six-hit pitching from Lon Warneke and squeezed through to a 3 to 2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, for whom the redoubtable Lee Grissom failed to finish, being lifted for a pinch-hitter.

Dodgers Win

Henshaw hurled the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 7 to 3 win over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The scheduled American League feature between the leading Yankees and second place Boston Red Sox failed to materialize due to rain, leaving double-headers for today and tomorrow. The St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians likewise were washed out.

The Chicago White Sox accepted an opportunity to cut in on the third place Detroit Tigers, by beating the latter, 6 to 4.

Washington pounded out 25 hits in two games in beating the Philadelphia Athletics, 15 to 7 and 8 to 6, and the A's made 27 safeties in losing the twin bill. Also 11 errors enlivened the occasion, the Athletics contributing seven of them.

Saks Juniors Top South Siders, 5-3

Croton Representatives Annex Well Earned 6-2 Triumph

Maggie was in superb condition Tuesday night and the Saks Juniors defeated the South Side Merchants 5-3 to take sole possession of first place in the Junior Softball league.

The Slabtowners found the offerings of Maggie for five hits while Kendra gave up eight hits for the losers. Kendra also poled out a homer. Fava, catcher for the Saks, had a perfect day at bat—3 for 3. Getty had 2 hits out of 4 for the South Siders. This was the 13th straight victory for the Saks.

Croton Merchants defeated the Fannins 6-2 in an exciting battle. Latess pitched for the Crotonites while Merando took the knoll for the losers. Johns and Santangelo featured for the Fannins while DeJoseph and Gentile were outstanding at the plate for the Croton team. DeJoseph rapped out a homer.

Muscletone May Come To U. S. To Oppose Greyhound

(International News Service)

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Signor Giovanni Malani of Milan, Italy, owner of Muscleton, trotting champion of Europe, said today he will decide in a few days whether he will bring his horse here for a proposed match race with Greyhound, famous American trotter owned by E. J. Baker.

Attempting to break the world record of 1:56 3-4 for one mile, set by Peter Manning in 1922, Greyhound failed by one second and a half yesterday. However, his time of 57 seconds for the last half was sensational.

Grapefruit production in the United States reached a total of 27,603,000 boxes in 1936. This is almost twice the figure for any year prior to 1932.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

The death of Johnny Page, young lightweight boxer, from injuries suffered in a boxing bout at Pittsburgh last week was accidental, according to a coroner's jury in Allegheny county Tuesday. Men prominent in boxing circles testified at the inquest which exonerated Page's opponent, Eddie Zivic of Lawrenceville of blame for the fatal knockout of the former Texas youth in the ninth round of their match August 2, at Hickey park. A doctor testified his examination disclosed Page had suffered concussion and laceration of the brain when he went down twice under Zivic's blows.

Funeral service were held today at Irwin, for Dr. Williams Judd Crookston, former Pittsburgher and at one time a star gridiron terminal for W. & J. who died in New York, Monday following an operation.

Harold Surface walloped John McDiarmid, Princeton U. professor from Fort Worth, 6-1, 6-1, yesterday at the Westchester County club at Rye, N. Y., in the Eastern Grass court net singles championships. The victory sent Surface into the quarter-final round.

Charles E. Dorais of Detroit U., will coach the 1937 All-Stars from various colleges to play the Green-bay Packers, champions of the National Professional league at Soldiers field, Chicago, September 1.

Carl Kauffman and Andy Szwedka of Pittsburgh, qualified at San Francisco yesterday for the public links tourney. Kauffman had no trouble qualifying. Szwedka had an easier time turning in a 143 to Kauffman's 148.

Hambletonian Classic Today

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Down upon this tranquil vista of a simpler and gentler age came the city folks today with their pompous antics and store clothes, to listen spellbound to the raving silence around here and flinch visibly every time the local live stock too suddenly begin their lowing from a nearby field. They're here, and I don't mean the live stock, for the annual running of the Hambletonian stakes at one mile, a rural grand prix to the aroma of timothy and apple cider and the lazy drone of insect life, murmuring in the unmowed grass.

The race, begun in 1926, will have a near-record field of twelve numbering the best three-year-olds either in training or out. It will sell all of the grandstand and most of the infield at the good time track here. Its purse is $40,000. Its winner, without further testimony, will be the recognized 3-year-old trotting champion of 1937. In less words, it will be and is the Kentucky Derby, on wheels.

It's getting so good, in fact, that in recent years the Broadway mob has been giving itself a "gander" at the proceedings and now we even have wrestling promoters sending the favorite to the post. The favorite is De Sota, at 2 to 5 overnight, with Mr. Paul Bowser, the Boston producer of refined nonsense, in there doing his owning with dignity and restraint.

HIGHLAND TIGERS WIN

The Highland Tigers defeated the North Hill Cubs 9 to 5 in a game at Washington field. Erce was the winning pitcher and Smith the losing pitcher. Stock was the heaviest hitter. For games with the Tigers call 4275-J.

DEAN PARK INDIANS

The Dean Park Indians scalped the Soap Boxers by a score of 28 to 8 in a game at Dean Park field. J. Campbell was the winning hurler and L. DeVitto featured with a homer.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILI BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Mike Jacobs, new czar of boxing, is friendly to newspapermen . . . he ought to be . . . for newspaper men helped to make him . . . started him on the high road that led to virtual dictatorship as Madison Square Garden promoter. . . . Of course, Mike has done a few things on his own hook, too . . . such as signing up Joe Louis when the Bomber first loomed into prominence.

Friendship for Tex Rickard in the days when the promoter from Nevada was fighting for a foothold in New York richly repaid Jacobs . . . back in 1916 Tex needed a bundle of cash in promoting the bout between Jess Willard and Frank Moran . . . Mike popped up with the money . . . Tex then sold him stock ($85,000 worth) in the new Madison Square Garden. . . . Mike later sold the stock for a profit . . . but the important profit was the intimate association with Rickard that resulted . . . Mike became Rickard's box office expert, scaling prices for Garden shows . . . Mike is pretty proud of his ability in that regard . . . . he boasts that he knows the Garden seating layout as well as he knows the living room of his home at Red Bank, N. J. . . . and can price the pews to make 'em yield every possible penny.

* * *

Well, after Rickard's death, Mike went right on pitching for Bill Carey who tried to fill Rickard's shoes in the Garden. . . . But Carey's regime was luckless . . . and Jimmy Johnston, Boy Bandit of Broadway, put on some very successful shows in the ball parks . . . Carey was replaced as president by Col. John Kilpatrick . . . Jimmy Johnston became Garden matchmaker . . . Mike went back to his old love, ticket speculating.

What happened then? Well, the New York Milk Fund, a charitable project, was launched by Hearts enterprises in New York . . . for a time the Garden was glad to cooperate with the newspapers promoting the benefits . . . but it developed that charity became a strain on gate receipts . . . Garden directors rebelled because the better boxing shows, and the more profitable, inevitably were Milk Fund affairs, with a nice fat cut in the gate for sweet charity.

* * *

The newspapermen promoting the Milk Fund shows—Damon Runyon, Bill Farnsworth and Eddie Frayne—took Mike to their bosoms . . . and the Twenty Century club suddenly bloomed into existence to foster Milk Fund shows outside the Garden . . . that was Mike's entry upon the scene as a full-fledged promoter, and he has proved a master at the job . . . helped materially by the publicity, he ventured into wider fields, growing, gaining power as he went from one successful job to another.

When Mike persuaded Joe Louis to fight under his promotion he signed the warrant for Jimmy Johnston's doom as a power in New York boxing . . . though Jimmy Braddock was champion, and had agreed to fight under Garden auspices, Mike had a logical contender in Joe Louis, and lost no time luring Braddock to Chicago for a battle in which the title changed hands, and Jacobs became supreme. . . . Recourse to the courts proved of no avail to the Garden . . . now Schmeling, who has defeated Louis, will have to talk to Jacobs (to whom he owes some $35,000) if he wants a chance to win the crown he covets.

* * *

You may remember that a Braddock-Schmeling fight was in the making last winter . . . but the threat of Jewish boycott, because of Schmeling's Nazi association, reared its head . . . and frightened the Braddock cohorts as badly as a boogey man scares a child . . . Mike didn't have anything to do with the boycott, to be sure, but he must have enjoyed it . . . . it helped him a lot in his work . . . for the fear of a curtailed gate killed the Braddock-Schmeling fight in New York . . . it was just one of those strange quirs of fate that New York missed seeing Braddock defend his title because of the boycott business.

Aside from all that, Mike is 58 years old and bald . . . Mrs. Jacobs wishes he wasn't mixed up in the fight business because it keeps him away from home so much . . . Mike likes to gamble, but thinks a fellow is a sucker to play the horses or cards.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Recommended for serious consideration as the year's nearest perfect and most conclusive statement of fact: Tom Sopwith's assertion, "The Ranger was just too fast." . . . The experts ought to take a leaf from Sopwith's book. . . . The success of Joe Louis, after all, and the Yankees lies in the fact that they hit too hard . . . Young Bob Feller throws a ball too fast . . . Seabiscuit runs too rapidly from pole to pole . . . War Admiral's success can be traced directly to the fact that he stays in front of the other horses.

* * *

Joe Louis, his managers and Trainer Jack Blackburn have seen the pictures of Tommy Farr's bout with Max Baer . . . and think very unhighly of the British boxer, but won't admit it for publication . . . Yankee Coach Art Fletcher has seen some great ball players . . . and some great plays . . . but he declares a play he saw Joe DiMaggio make in St. Louis was the greatest of them all . . . there were St. Louis runners on first and third and one out . . . the batter hit a low line drive to center field . . . Joe came in and grabbed it a foot above the ground . . . the runner on third streaked for home and the man on first prepared to try to make second on the play to the plate . . . instead of throwing to the plate, however, Joe wheeled and fired the ball to first as only DiMaggio can throw, beating the astonished runner back to the base by a step.

* * *

The Yankee farm system includes Newark, Oakland, Kansas City, Binghamton, Norfolk, Joplin, Bassett and Butler, Pa. . . . The chief complaint against the new dead ball the magnates intend to put into play next year is that a good smack on the nose makes it lopsided . . . pitchers ought to do pretty well with an egg to toss up there . . . Jimmy Johnston, now that he's on the way out at Madison Square Garden, has started to talk again . . . which means he is rapidly becoming his old self . . . he says that if the Louis-Farr fight lasts a round it will be because Louis carries the Welshman along . . . and that Farr is the worst fighter he has come across to date . . . which is a pretty fair mouthful, inasmuch as J himself managed a guy named Phil Scott.

* * *

Cleveland friends of Gomer Jones are petitioning Joe Carr, president or the National pro football league to reinstate the former Ohio State center . . . Jones was suspended for five years—along with Sid Gillman and Max Padlow—for jumping National league contracts last year and joining the Cleveland Rams, then an outlaw, or American league, outfit . . . if it hadn't been for Jones, it is pretty safe to say Cleveland wouldn't have been built into a National league city . . . the Rams were taken into the National league this year with open arms, but the three star players were barred . . . and suspension for five years is just about equivalent to a life sentence . . . This corner hopes Joe Carr will be able to convince other National league people that the suspension ought to be lifted in this case . . . when the old Federal league (baseball) collapsed, the players were restored to good standing in the National and American loops . . . and it doesn't look so good to accept the Rams as a member of the league and give three players who helped to build the club a herring for their pains.

Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

A thoughtless woman flicking ashes from a cigarette and the slippery condition of the highways were the causes of two cars skidding into the ditch and bumping together on the Ellwood-New Castle road on Tuesday morning. The drivers evidently thought the young woman was signalling that she intended to make a turn and quickly applying their brakes skidded into the ditch slightly damaging their front fenders and bumpers.

Torrential downpours of the past few days left much dirt and debris in their wake. Fifth and Sixth streets were miniature lakes on Monday evening, with the water covering the sidewalks.

Now that the second annual National Tube company's vacation is just a happy memory for the employees, the milk men, bread men and the merchants are once again wearing a happy smile. Business and other activities have returned to normalcy. From the folks we've talked to, the Shenandoah Valley and points in Canada, topped the list as the popular vacation points visited by large numbers of local people.

We all have our "off' days, but Mrs. Catherine Slavik, who lives on a farm in North Sewickley township thinks she's had more than her share. On a recent day, when she went out to feed some chickens, a big rooster flew at her, severely biting her on the legs, making two deep gashes. The same day her daughter was bitten by a mosquito, and infection resulting causing blood poisoning. To climax the mishaps of the day, the hired man fell from a tree, breaking his arm. We're glad to know that they are all recovering.

For the first time in several years, many snakes of the non-poisonous variety are reported by the farmers in this district. One of our friends was badly frightened the other day, when she was gathering the eggs to find a six foot black snake curled up in one of the nests.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Today is a big day here in New Castle . . . it's Dollar Day and the people are in town having a great time . . . if you are one of the ones that stayed home you can bet your boots that you missed a great day . . . ask anyone that was here in town.

* * *

Guy Lackey what do you do with two women on your mind? . . . maybe we shouldn't have said that but word came in that a young lady by the names of Jones is also interested . . . are you still wondering who J. W. M. is.

* * *

Some of the boys that have been away for a few years are back in town . . . Dick McIlwain and his better half . . . nee Julia Ann Jackson also of this city . . . Dick has been in Boston for the past few years and doing right well for himself . . . glad to see you Dick . . . also here this week is David Alspach of Allentown . . . it has been three years since the lady killer has been in town . . . what do you think of the place now . . . or is Madison-on-the-Lake nicer.

* * *

A young lady was driving along the main highway when she was stopped by a young man on a motor cycle . . . he was in uniform . . . you are under arrest said the officer . . . what for, said the young lady, speeding? . . . no, said the officer . . . flying too low . . . the young lady was from town.

The parking meters will be ready for use the first thing Thursday morning . . . won't we have fun . . . oh boy, oh boy . . . who will be the first one to use them . . . we are waiting.

* * *

A very interesting letter was received concerning the fifty thousand dollars . . . what would you do with that much money? . . . the meaning of all this will be explained latter.

Market Works Irregularly Lower, Easier Tendencies On Market Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The stock market worked irregularly lower today in a continuation of yesterday's easier tendencies. Price changes in most cases were small and trading dull.

Commodities were without uniform trend. Wheat and corn declined on enlarged crop forecasts in this country after yesterday's runup on the Canadian crop failure. Cotton was higher.

Markets abroad showed a tendency to sag. London started lower and then firmed up somewhat before the close. The dollar gave some ground in foreign exchange dealings.

Scattered selling came into Bethlehem Steel on its new financing plans, and it declined over a point. National was easier, too, but U. S. Steel and Youngstown firmed up after an early decline.

Most of the rails were down though Atchison and N. Y. Central showed support. A similar irregular down trend prevailed in the utilities.

Motor shares gave ground fractionally. Coppers were mixed as the conviction that a domestic price rise was imminent waned. Anaconda and Kennecott declined fractionally. The others were firm.

U. S. Rubber rose over a point. Most oils were slightly higher. Gold shares and aviations pointed higher, as did the sugars. Allied Chemical lost two in the blue chips and American Can a point, but Eastman Kodak gained a point.

Monckton-Windsor Have Conference

Report That Duke Of Windsor May Return To London, Take Seat In House

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Aug. 11.—Sir Walter Monckton, attorney-general of the Duchy of Cornwall, returned to England today after a lengthy conference with the Duke of Windsor at Castle Wasserleonburg, at which it is understood the prospects of his eventual return to London were discussed.

Lending strength to persistent reports he has such plans in mind, it was learned the Duke and Duchess have abandoned their original intention of purchasing an estate in Austria for a permanent stay.

If he is able to return to England, the Duke does not intend to play a political role, reliable sources said, but insists he is entitled to occupy his seat in the house of lords.

Rust Attacks Wheat, Oats In Wide Erie Area

Disease Spreads From Barberry Bushes To Farm Crops In Wide Area

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—Black stem rust has spread to virtually all fields of wheat and oats in an area of 150 square miles in eastern Erie county, the State Department of Agriculture reported today.

The infestation in the oat fields is 100 per cent in severity and has a prevalence of 100 per cent. The disease, which depends upon the barberry for one stage of its development, has spread to every oats and wheat field in the vicinity of barberry bushes.

Federal and state inspectors during a recent inspection tour of Central and Western Pennsylvania found black stem rust in areas centering at the following points: Guys Mills, Crawford county; Newmansville, Clarion county, East Smithfield, Bradford county; Dushore, Sullivan county; Brooklyn and South Gibson, Susquehanna county; Waterstreet, Huntington county, and Spring Mills, Centre county.

Damage from this plant diseases will be heavy this year wherever barberry is plentiful. The late crop of oats is not maturing in infected areas. The disease is usually carried to grain fields by the wind and has been known to travel long distances. Mountains provide a natural barrier.

Did Sea Serpent Pay Visit To Big Summer Resort?

(International News Service)

NANTUCKET, Mass., Aug. 11.—Summer residents of this island refuge in Nantucket Sound were visibly agitated Tuesday with reports a giant sea serpent had paid them a visit during the night.

Rumors fishermen has seen a sea serpent lurking in the waters between here and Martha's vineyard during the past ten days received a measure of credence locally with the startling discovery of giant web-footed tracks on Madaket Beach.

Gil Manter and Ed. Crocker, local business men, found the tracks when they went down to the beach to do some fishing. The prints measured 66 inlhes long and 45 inches wide. They appeared to be those of a web-footed mammal.

Call Scientists

Camera enthusiasts hurried to the beach and took pictures. Hurry calls to naturalists and scientists in New York were placed.

The New Yorkers, however, were skeptic. Dr. W. Reid Blair, director of the New York Zoological society, said:

"No marine mammal could have left the tracks as they do not move so much on their flippers as they do on their second joint and on their bellies. Evidence of their passage would be seen on the beach only in a slight indentation.

"As for a land mammal, there is nothing on Nantucket Island that could leave such large tracks.

"By the way, isn't Nantucket Island a summer resort?"

Dr. James H. Kimball, noted meteorologist, observed that according to his records Nantucket Island had been suffering unseasonable heat for the past week.

Egg Auctions Bring Farmers Higher Prices

Prices Average In Excess Of Current Market Values

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—Farmers who sold eggs through Pennsylvania's six co-operative auctions during the second quarter of the current year received higher than market prices and felt only slightly the extreme fluctuations which characterized regular markets during that period.

"The auctions have again demonstrated their value as a stabilizing influence," declared J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture.

The six auctions in this state are the Bucks county, Butler Co-operative, Coatesville, Lancaster county, Lehigh Valley and Tri-county auctions.

On April 15 when Pennsylvania eggs were selling for an average farm price of 22.4 cents per dozen, the average auction price for extra large white eggs was 25.95 cents.

During the following month the state average fell to 20.7 cents per dozen but the auction average declined only seventy-four one-hundredths of a cent.

From May 15 to June 15 the state average remained virtually stationary but the auction average jumped to 27.03 cents per dozen.

Files Suit To Collect Losses On Horse Races

(International News Service)

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Anna Chrostowski today served notice she will match kick for kick with the geldings, mares and colts whose flying hooves kicked her husband's earnings into the pockets of the bookmakers.

Mrs. Chrostowski wants the bookies to kick back, pronto, on a three-for-one basis. A Massachusetts statute permits the wife to recover triple damages if she proves her case.

Her husband, she claims, paid two bookies from $3 to $78 a day for a year—and lost it all. So, today, she filed suit for $4,000 against the two alleged bookies.

She is asking a lot of embarrassing questions, too. How much money did the bookies pay, she asked, for "protection"—and how and where did they procure their telephone and telegraph protection.

They're posting odds of 10-to-1 today that Mrs. Chrostowski will make a lot of persons uncomfortable.

FARM PRICE INDEX HOLDING UP WELL

HARRISBURG.—The index of prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for their products maintained its position during the thirty days up to July 15 and continued three points higher than July prices in 1936. It was a year ago that farm prices jumped six points in July due to the drought. During the thirty days from June 15 to July 15 Pennsylvania prices for buckwheat, hogs, beef cattle, veal calves, milk and eggs increased. Prices for other commodities declined or remained stationary.

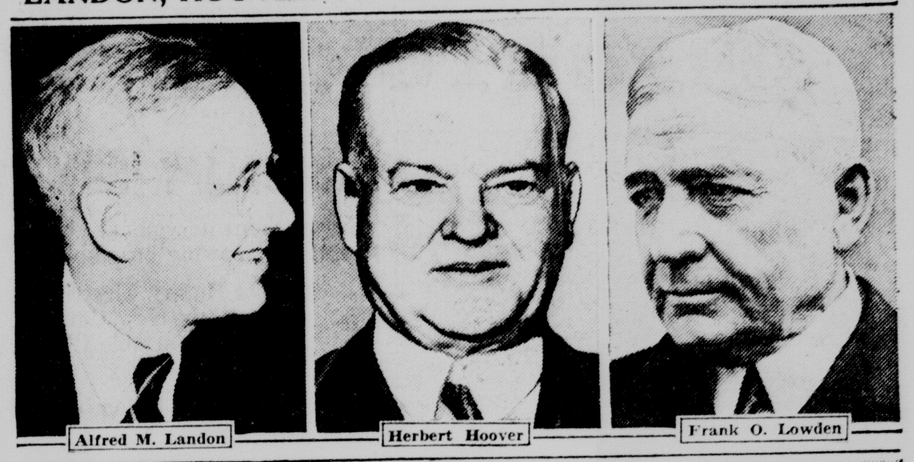
LANDON, HOOVER TO MEET IN MOVE FOR HARMONY



Alfred M. Landon — Herbert Hoover — Frank O. Lowden

Lowden's home near Oregon, Ill.

Rumor has it that former Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas, G. O. P. presidential candidate in 1936, and former President Herbert Hoover, soon will meet at a "harmony" conference. The "peacemaker", under plans now fairly complete, will be former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois; the place, his estate, Sinnissippi, near Oregon, Ill.; the time, next month. A series of informal meetings held in a dozen cities between close friends of both Landon and Hoover have been the prelude. A split between the Landon and Hoover forces developed early in the 1936 campaign. Now, a united party front is desired for the 1938 congressional campaign.

Costumes Of Yesterday To Be Displayed

Historic Costumes Of Lawrence County Families Will Be Exhibited

CALL ATTENTION TO OLD TIMERS DAY

Attention of New Castle residents will be directed toward Old Timer's Day, when the 31st annual reunion occurs at Cascade Park, Wednesday, August 18, by a novel display which is now being arranged.

The latter part of this week, costumes which were worn by pioneer residents of Lawrence county, 80 years or more ago, will be exhibited in the windows of downtown stores.

An invitation has been extended to all persons who have such costumes to bring them to the home of Mrs. Effie Peebles Kirk, of 305 Highland avenue, chairman of the committee in charge of this feature. If unable to bring them to the above address, those who have such costumes, are asked to call either Mrs. Kirk at 3080, or Mrs. Maude B. Hamilton, 3722-J, and arrangements will be made to call for them.

The committee promises that these costumes will be well cared for and returned to them in the condition they were received.

Three years ago, members of various pioneer families wore such costumes in a costume parade which preceded the grand march and dancing at the Old Timer's picnic at Cascade Park, and made a big hit with the audience. Because of the fact that some of these costumes were designed for winter wear and were uncomfortable to don in August and parade around in, this feature was dropped, but there are many people who would be interested in seeing these old costumes, the committee believes, and for this reason, arrangements will be made to display them.

Plans for the annual gathering at Cascade Park are moving forward nicely and indications point to an enjoyable occasion, when the Old Timers gather again on August 18.

FINDS WATCH IN FISH

(International News Service)

WENATCHEE, Wash.—A. J. Heinz thought he was lucky when he caught a five and a half pound bass in Moses Lake. But he didn't realize how lucky. In the fish's stomach he found an English-made gold watch, believed at least 200 years old. The name "M. S. Tobias, Liverpool" was engraved on the case.

AROUND CITY HALL

With parking meters schedulel to begin operating Thursday, Mayor Charles E. McGrath today was asked if he proposes to immediately put a nickel collector to work. He replied negatively. The mayor stated that he intends to have police take charge of the meters until such time as experience teaches him the most proper move to make. This means that police will patrol the streets to see that the ordinance concerning parking is enforced and one of them will be assigned to collect the nickels from the boxes every few days. The meters have been placed at an angle in order that motorists will be able to see the meters more clearly.

During the past few days several children have been injured when struck by automobiles in cartways. Parents should take pains to teach their offsprings not to step off the curb into a cartway unless they look for on-coming automobiles. It is true that no person is supposed to cross a street at other than an intersection but the fact remains that children are children and sometimes they do not think of the danger before they step or run from a curb. Should parents take a few minutes daily to talk "safety first" to their children it may later save them days and perhaps years of grief.

Not so long ago a Cleveland boy who was visiting a Pennsylvania avenue family was attacked by a dog across the Big Run. The case was investigated by police and yesterday Dog Catcher Jack Young cut off the head of the dog and sent it to a state bureau for the purpose of ascertaining if the dog had rabies.

Following another conference scheduled for October, which will be attended by superintendents, high school principals, deans and registrars of colleges and universities, the Secondary Division plans to complete a statement concerning new high school requirements for graduation.

Rather Unusual But It's True

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—A mother-in-law went to circuit court Tuesday to help her son-in-law win a divorce from her daughter, the latter a government worker at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Mae Nowicki told the court that she had tried to reconcile her daughter, Arline L. and her husband, John E. Kasinski "but Arline said the marriage was a mistake."

Kasinski said he married Arline Jan. 28, 1935, and that his wife left him two days later to take a government job in Washington and refused to return. He was granted a decree.

State Planning For Escape Proof Prison In East

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—Even the Houdini natured criminal—the kind that's hard to keep behind prison walls—has little to look forward to when the gates clang behind him as he enters Pennsylvania's proposed "maximum security prison" at Mt. Gretna, Lebanon county.

That was the general impression gained as Col. Augustine S. Janeway, executive director of the General State Authority, outlined "vital statistics" involved in the construction of the new silo-like $2,020,000 "Alcatraz", expected to be one of the most modern and nearest "escape-proof" prisons in the country.

The General State Authority will have charge of the Giant construction project and work will proceed as soon as plans meet final approval of PWA authorities in Washington.

The prison will be comprised mainly of three circular towers, resembling squat silos, enclosed by more than 10,000 feet of tool-resistant steel mesh, 12 feet high. The grounds will resemble a desert expanse. Only crushed limestone will cover the inneryard. Not a tree or blade of grass will be added.

Departing from orthodox prison construction in vogue the past 100 years, the three circular walls enclosing cell blocks and shops will rise to a height of 33 feet. A solid concrete railing on the inside and a pipe railing on the outside will surmount the wall.
